Standards-based School Mathematics Curricula Sharon L. Senk, Denise R. Thompson, 2020-07-24 The Curriculum and Evaluation Standards for School Mathematics published by the National Council of Teachers of Mathematics in 1989 set forth a broad vision of mathematical content and pedagogy for grades K 12 in the United States These Standards prompted the development of Standards based mathematics curricula What features characterize Standards based curricula How well do such curricula work To answer these questions the editors invited researchers who had investigated the implementation of 12 different Standards based mathematics curricula to describe the effects of these curricula on students learning and achievement and to provide evidence for any claims they made In particular authors were asked to identify content on which performance of students using Standards based materials differed from that of students using more traditional materials and content on which performance of these two groups of students was virtually identical Additionally four scholars not involved with the development of any of the materials were invited to write critical commentaries on the work reported in the other chapters Section I of Standards Based School Mathematics Curricula provides a historical background to place the current curriculum reform efforts in perspective a summary of recent recommendations to reform school mathematics and a discussion of issues that arise when conducting research on student outcomes Sections II III and IV are devoted to research on mathematics curriculum projects for elementary middle and high schools respectively The final section is a commentary by Jeremy Kilpatrick Regents Professor of Mathematics Education at the University of Georgia on the research reported in this book It provides a historical perspective on the use of research to guide mathematics curriculum reform in schools and makes additional recommendations for further research In addition to the references provided at the end of each chapter other references about the Standards based curriculum projects are provided at the end of the book This volume is a valuable resource for all participants in discussions about school mathematics curricula including professors and graduate students interested in mathematics education curriculum development program evaluation or the history of education educational policy makers teachers parents principals and other school administrators The editors hope that the large body of empirical evidence and the thoughtful discussion of educational values found in this book will enable readers to engage in informed civil discourse about the goals and methods of school mathematics curricula and related research

Beyond Shanghai and PISA Binyan Xu,Yan Zhu,Xiaoli Lu,2021-05-07 This book seeks to illustrate the research on mathematics competencies and disposition in China according to the conceptual development and empirical investigation perspective Mathematics education in China has a distinguishing feature a focus of attention to mathematical competency Paradoxically there has not been an explicit refined and measurable evaluation system in place to assess mathematical competency in China While academic achievement surveys or evaluations are common these can only give an overall conclusion about mathematical thinking skills or problem solving abilities In response to this deficiency China is beginning to carry out national projects that emphasize defining both a conceptual framework on core competencies in school mathematics and developing a corresponding assessment framework Thus the main focus of this volume is the current investigations of different mathematics competencies and mathematical disposition of Chinese students with the aim of promoting interaction between domestic and international student performance assessment to provide a more comprehensive understanding of mathematics competencies and disposition in mainland China and to stimulate innovative new directions in research The primary audience of this volume is the large group of researchers interested in mathematics competencies mathematics teaching and learning in China or comparative studies or the relation of the three The book will also appeal to teaching trainers or instructors as well as be an appropriate resource for graduate courses or seminars at either the master s or doctoral level Math Instruction for Students with Learning Problems Susan Perry Gurganus,2017-02-24 Math Instruction for Students with Learning Problems Second Edition provides a research based approach to mathematics instruction designed to build confidence and competence in pre and in service PreK 12 teachers This core textbook addresses teacher and student attitudes toward mathematics as well as language issues specific mathematics disabilities prior experiences and cognitive and metacognitive factors The material is rich with opportunities for class activities and field extensions and the second edition has been fully updated to reference both NCTM and CCSSM standards throughout the text and includes an entirely new chapter on measurement and data analysis Journal of the Florida Education Association Florida Education Association,1924
