Activities: Use the information below to create a mind map to show the factors that influence where people live. (physical or human)

Extension: Use a world map to show the distribution of each factor. How does it affect where people live?

WORKSHEET

Global Population Distribution

Study the world map and describe the distribution of population. (climate, relief, soil, water, accessibility, economic activities and services)

Key Points

- The world's population is evenly distributed across the globe.
- The majority of people live in densely populated areas.
- The majority of people live in areas where density is higher than the coastal regions.
- People live in areas where density is higher.
- Economic activities and services are more densely concentrated than coastal areas.

World Population Map

Population Density and Distribution

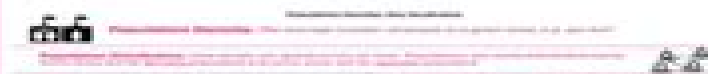

Some areas of the world are densely populated (crowded) with many people. Some areas are sparsely populated (empty) with few people.

Factors influencing where people live:

• Climate: Warm climates are more densely populated than cold climates. Some people live in cold climates but they are not as densely populated. Some people live in hot climates but they are not as densely populated.
