Jacques Lezra, 2017-11-15 On what basis can we establish an alternative to the unifying of cultures brought about by economic globalization When ideas like objects and words can be translated and marketed everywhere what forms of critique are available Straddling the fields of political philosophy comparative literature animal studies global studies and political economy Untranslating Machines proposes to this end a weakened defective concept of untranslatability The analytic frame of Jacques Lezra's argument is rooted in Marx Derrida and Wittgenstein He moves historically from the moment when translation becomes firmly wed to mercantilism and to the consolidation of proto national state forms in European early modernity to the current moment in which the flow of information commodities and value creation protocols among international markets produces the regulative fantasy of a global coherent market of markets In a world in which translation and translatability have become a means and a model for the consolidation of a global cultural system this book proposes an understanding of untranslatability that serves to limit the articulation between a globalized capitalist value system and the figure and techniques of translation Performing Architectures Andrew Filmer, Juliet Rufford, 2018-05-03

Performing Architectures offers a coherent introduction to the fields of performance and contemporary architecture exploring the significance of architecture for performance theory and theatre and performance practice It maps the diverse relations that exist between these disciplines and demonstrates how their aims concerns and practices overlap through shared interests in space action and event Through a wide range of international examples and contributions from scholars and practitioners it offers readers an analytical survey of current practices and equips them with the tools for analyzing site specific and immersive theatre and performance The essays in this volume contributed by leading theorists and practitioners from both disciplines focus on three key sites of encounter Projects examines recent trends in architecture for performance Practices looks at cross currents in artistic practice including spatial dramaturgies performance architectonics and performative architectures and Pedagogies considers the uses of performance in architectural education and architecture in teaching performance The volume provides an essential introduction to the ways in which performance and architecture as socio spatial processes and as things made or constructed operate as generating shaping and steering forces in understanding and performing the other Human Resource Management and the Institutional Perspective Geoffrey Wood, Chris

Brewster, Michael Brookes, 2014-06-05 One of the most influential debates across business and management studies has centered on the relative impact of institutions on the fortunes of firms and nations However analyses have primarily focused on institutional effects on societal features rather than actual firm practices This volume brings together recent trends in comparative institutional analysis with a rich body of data on firm level human resource management practice consolidating and extending more than a decade of research on the topic Human Resource Management and the Institutional Perspective explores the overlapping and distinct elements in work and employment relations both within and across country lines The
