Physical Science Under Microgravity: Experiments on Board the SJ-10 Recoverable Satellite Wenrui Hu, Qi Kang, 2019-10-16 This book presents the physical science experiments in a space microgravity environment conducted on board the SJ 10 recoverable satellite which was launched on April 6th 2016 and recovered on April 18th 2016 The experiments described were selected from 100 proposals from various institutions in China and around the world and have never previously been conducted in the respective fields They involve fluid physics and materials science and primarily investigate the kinetic properties of matter in a space microgravity environment The book provides a comprehensive review of these experiments as well as the mission's execution data collection and scientific outcomes

Economics and Climate Emergency Barry Gills, Jamie Morgan, 2022-08-22 This book explores a series of connected themes focused on the role economics and other influential forms of theory and thinking have played in creating the current predicament and the scope for alternatives and how they might be framed Thirty years have passed since the inception of the United Nations Framework Convention on Climate Change UNFCCC and the beginning of policy on climate change Thirty wasted years To most politicians long term collective interest has been denominated in meaningless units of time a never and forever that has continually delayed action From complacency has come potential disaster and we are now living in a time of climate emergency and ecological breakdown The next decade is a pivotal period requiring fundamental change But numerous impediments remain Continual material energy and economic growth on a planetary scale are manifestly impossible and yet economic theory takes these as a given and political leadership and policy seem unwilling to accept brute reality Instead they offer a series of implausible commitments and pledges rooted in technofixes without addressing the fundamental drivers of the problems the world faces The edited volume explores the issues and offers a variety of ways to think through the problems at hand from postgrowth degrowth and social ecological economics to policy assemblage and transversalism The chapters in this book were originally published in the journal Globalizations

Freedom's Laboratory Audra J. Wolfe, 2020-08-04 The Cold War ended long ago but the language of science and freedom continues to shape public debates over the relationship between science and politics in the United States Scientists like to proclaim that science knows no borders Scientific researchers follow the evidence where it leads their conclusions free of prejudice or ideology But is that really the case In Freedom's Laboratory Audra J Wolfe shows how these ideas were tested to their limits in the high stakes propaganda battles of the Cold War Wolfe examines the role that scientists in concert with administrators and policymakers played in American cultural diplomacy after World War II During this period the engines of US propaganda promoted a vision of science that highlighted empiricism objectivity a commitment to pure research and internationalism Working both overtly and covertly wittingly and unwittingly with governmental and private organizations scientists attempted to decide what exactly they meant when they referred to scientific freedom or the US ideology More frequently however they defined

American science merely as the opposite of Communist science Uncovering many startling episodes of the close relationship between the US government and private scientific groups Freedom s Laboratory is the first work to explore science s link to US propaganda and psychological warfare campaigns during the Cold War Closing in the present day with a discussion of the 2017 March for Science and the prospects for science and science diplomacy in the Trump era the book demonstrates the continued hold of Cold War thinking on ideas about science and politics in the United States ICEL2015-10th International Conference on e-Learning Dr Carlton Watson,2015-06-12 These proceedings represent the work of researchers participating in the 10th International Conference on e Learning ICEL 2015 which is being hosted this year by the College of the Bahamas Nassau on the 25 26 June 2015 ICEL is a recognised event on the International research conferences calendar and provides a valuable platform for individuals to present their research findings display their work in progress and discuss conceptual advances in the area of e Learning It provides an important opportunity for researchers and managers to come together with peers to share their experiences of using the varied and expanding range of e Learning available to them With an initial submission of 91 abstracts after the double blind peer review process there are 41 academic Research papers and 2 PhD papers Research papers published in these Conference Proceedings These papers come from some many different countries including Australia Belgium Brazil Canada China Germany Greece Hong Kong Malaysia Portugal Republic of Macedonia Romania Slovakia South Africa Sweden United Arab Emirates UK and the USA A selection of the best papers those agreed by a panel of reviewers and the editor will be published in a conference edition of EJEL the Electronic Journal of e Learning www.ejel.com These will be chosen for their quality of writing and relevance to the Journal s objective of publishing papers that offer new insights or practical help into the application e Learning

Biology-Inspired Engineering and Engineering-Inspired Biology Jan-Matthias Braun, Poramate Manoonpong, Xiaofeng Xiong, 2021-01-04 First Do No Harm: Medical Ethics in International Humanitarian Law Sigrid Mehring, 2014-11-27

Although working on the sidelines of armed conflicts physicians are often at the centre of attention First Do No harm Medical Ethics in International Humanitarian Law was born from the occasionally controversial role of physicians in recent armed conflicts and the legal and ethical rules that frame their actions While international humanitarian human rights and criminal law provide a framework of rights and obligations that bind physicians in armed conflicts the reference to medical ethics in the laws of armed conflict adds an extra legal layer In analysing both the legal and the ethical framework for physicians in armed conflict the book is invaluable to practitioners and legal scholars alike Investigating Light and Shadow with Young Children (Ages 3-8) Beth Dykstra Van Meeteren, 2022-06-17 Children are intrigued by switches that power a light source and by items that reflect light and sparkle and they take notice of personal shadows cast on the playground An understanding of light and shadow is crucial to many STEM fields including astronomy biology engineering architecture and more This book shows teachers how to engage children ages 3 8 with light and shadow in a playful way building an early foundation for the later more complex study of this phenomena and ultimately for children's interest in professions within the STEM fields The text offers guidance for arranging the physical environment of classrooms integrating literacy learning and investigations and building partnerships with administrators Each volume in the STEM for Our Youngest Learners Series includes examples of educators and children engaging in inquiry learning guidance for selecting materials and arranging the learning environment modifications and accommodations for diverse learners support for establishing adult learning communities and more

The Routledge Social Science Handbook of AI Anthony Elliott, 2021-07-12 The Routledge Social Science Handbook of AI is a landmark volume providing students and teachers with a comprehensive and accessible guide to the major topics and trends of research in the social sciences of artificial intelligence AI as well as surveying how the digital revolution from supercomputers and social media to advanced automation and robotics is transforming society culture politics and economy The Handbook provides representative coverage of the full range of social science engagements with the AI revolution from employment and jobs to education and new digital skills to automated technologies of military warfare and the future of ethics The reference work is introduced by editor Anthony Elliott who addresses the question of relationship of social sciences to artificial intelligence and who surveys various convergences and divergences between contemporary social theory and the digital revolution The Handbook is exceptionally wide ranging in span covering topics all the way from AI technologies in everyday life to single purpose robots throughout home and work life and from the mainstreaming of human machine interfaces to the latest advances in AI such as the ability to mimic and improve on many aspects of human brain function A unique integration of social science on the one hand and new technologies of artificial intelligence on the other this Handbook offers readers new ways of understanding the rise of AI and its associated global transformations Written in a clear and direct style the Handbook will appeal to a wide undergraduate audience Martian

Gullies and their Earth Analogues S.J. Conway,J.L. Carrivick,P.A. Carling,T. de Haas,T.N. Harrison,2019-01-21 Gullies on Mars resemble terrestrial gullies involved in the transport of abundant material down steep slopes by liquid water However liquid water should not be stable at the Martian surface The articles in this volume present the two main opposing theories for Martian gully formation climate driven melting of surficial water ice deposits and seasonal dry ice sublimation The evidence presented ranges from remote sensing observations to experimental simulations to comparison with Earth analogues The opposing hypotheses imply either that Mars has been unusually wet in the last few million years or that it has remained a cold dry desert both with profound implications for understanding the water budget of Mars and its habitability The debate questions the limits of remote sensing data and how we interpret active processes on extra terrestrial planetary surfaces even beyond those on Mars as summarized by the review paper at the beginning of the book Selected Works of Joseph E. Stiglitz Joseph E. Stiglitz,2019-06-06 This is the third volume in a new definitive six volume edition of the works of Joseph Stiglitz one of today s most distinguished and controversial economists Stiglitz was awarded the Nobel Prize in Economics in 2001 for his work on asymmetric information and is widely acknowledged as one of the pioneers in the field of modern information economics and more generally for his contributions to microeconomics Volume III contains a selection of Joseph E Stiglitz s work on microeconomics It questions well established tenets including many that are so fundamental they are almost taken for granted covering basic concepts of risk and markets the management of risk the theory of the firm the economics of organization and theory of human behaviour Stiglitz reflects on his work and the field more generally throughout the volume by including substantial original introductions to the Selected Works the volume as a whole and each part within the volume Proceedings of the Unima International Conference on Social Sciences and Humanities (UNICSSH 2022) Recky Harold Elby Sendouw,Theodorus Pangalila,Sjamsi Pasandaran,Vivi P.
