

The End

“I don’t know what to say,” he said.

“It’s okay,” she replied. “I know what we are— and I know what we’re not.”

Studying in English Hayo Reinders, Linh Phung, Marilyn Lewis, 2017-09-06. This easy-to-follow guide is packed with advice for students of English as a second language who are studying or planning to study a degree taught in English either in their home country or abroad. It provides practical advice on academic topics including listening to lectures, group work, and academic writing, and also helpful guidance for coping with language issues, making friends, and dealing with culture shock. Packed with insights from real students and engaging activities, it will help them to develop the strategies and skills that they need to thrive in a new academic environment. This is an essential resource for non-native English speakers who are studying in English at degree level. It is also ideal for students who are preparing for university level studies and for use on pre-sessional courses for international students. New to this Edition: Fully revised and updated information and examples with fresh coverage on standardised tests, accredited programs, conditional admission, and new forms of technology for language learning. New resources and examples on studying in the US. Expanded glossary of university terms to help students get to grips with new terminology and administrative processes.

Topline, Bottom Line: A Simple, Brief, Comprehensive, and Irreverent Writing Guide for Professionals Robert Levine, 2017-11-19. Topline Bottom Line opens by stressing the importance of good writing to business in the Information Age. Part One devotes a chapter each to grammar, spelling, punctuation, accuracy of word choice, the impact of word choice on writing's tone or style, structuring sentences and paragraphs, organizing documents, and the composition process. Part Two presents strategies for the most common types of business writing: resumés and cover letters, other correspondence, company newsletter articles, descriptive writing like instructions and job descriptions, expository writing such as project reports and employee reviews, and persuasive writing like proposals. The conclusion asserts that words convey information as definitively as numbers, requiring an equal level of precision in their use; it also counsels that writing is an art, not a science, because only the unique circumstances of each writing situation determine what works best for that situation.
