There isn't a lot of technical information within these pages Some information might fit into a technical section if one were included but there isn't any because that wasn't a goal It should be fairly easy to go on the Internet and uncover the technical data for any of these boats if you really want it The simple goal of this particular work was to have those who are most knowledgeable discuss the stories and insights behind the sailboats they personally know in some cases better than anyone else in the world The small trimarans featured in this book fall into 2 categories Production Sailboats which I also sometimes refer to as commercial or commercially produced boats Self Built Sailboats This is really the only logical arrangement of order There is one exception the Trinado model Featured boats include The Magnum 18 21 21S Trimarans The Windrider 16 17 Rave Hydrofoil Trimarans The Weta Beach Trimaran The Wa'apa Tamanu Small Trimaran Sailing Canoes The Fast 17 A18T A21 Cardiff 21 Z65 Small Trimarans The Seaclipper 10 16 Trimarans The Scarab Small Trimaran Models The Discovery 20 Small Trimaran The Warren 23 27 Small Trimarans The L7 Multi 23 Beach Tri 22 Small Trimarans The KH 16 Spitfire 20 KH 23 Small Trimarans The Trinado Trimaran The Tremolino Trimaran The K24T Small Cabin Cruiser Trimaran Plus An Interview about Wooden Boatbuilding with Chuck Leinweber publisher of Duckworks Magazine Interviews featuring production models are in the front And the small trimaran models most often self built at home by a do it yourselfer follow This order of arrangement isn't meant to convey some boats are better than others Such assessment is purely subjective It'll be shaped most often by what an individual wants in a boat at any given time In my opinion all of boats talked about in these pages are fun fast and desirable

Multi-Hulls Robin G. Coles,2014-11-15 Robin G Coles interviews James Brown about Multihulls catamarans trimarans and proas This was a two hour interview and chock full of great stories To learn more read about these top tips included 1 The real difference between multihulls and monohulls is people 2 One disadvantage is limited load carrying capacity 3 A trimaran has one large central hull and two smaller outer or outrigger hulls 4 A catamaran doesn t have a bow 5 A catamaran s widely spaced hulls can straddle a wave crest A trimaran s float or outer hull is not as far from the main hull as the two catamaran hulls are from each other so there s less room to straddle in a trimaran 6 The catamaran has to drag its two hulls through the tack A trimaran properly designed only has to drag one hull through the tack 7 Trimarans are better upwind they communicate with the pilot in a more direct manner 8 Trimarans are safer than catamarans 9 Proa has one main hull and only one smaller outrigger hull on one side of the boat usually to windward 10 Hydrofoils are racing trimarans fitted with J T and or ladder foils hydrofoils are underwater wings that accomplish the same thing in water that airplane wings do in air

Wave Making Resistance Characteristics of Trimaran Hulls Zafer Elcin,2003-12-01 Recently there has been an increased demand for high speed vessels both for military and commercial applications Many navies are exploring the potential of novel hull forms as part of efforts to achieve transformation in both combat and logistics missions in littoral seas This demand for high speed vessels has resulted in a need for unconventional hull forms in order to balance speed with payload requirements One such hull form is the trimaran The purpose of this thesis is to investigate the effects of side hull position on the wave making resistance characteristics of powered trimarans Resistance calculations were performed by a three dimensional Rankine panel code A systematic series of runs was conducted in order to classify ship resistance in forms of major trimaran hull geometric configurations The results of this thesis can be directly utilized in design in order to minimize ship resistance and maximize available payload
