The School Reform Landscape Christopher H. Tienken, Donald C. Orlich, 2013-02-22 In The School Reform Landscape Fear Mythologies and Lies the authors take an in depth and controversial look at school reform since the launch of Sputnik They scrutinize school reform events proposals and policies from the last 60 years through the lens of critical social theory and examine the ongoing tensions between the need to keep a vibrant unitary system of public education and the ongoing assault by corporate and elite interests in creating a dual system Some of the events proposals and policies critiqued include the Sputnik myth A Nation At Risk No Child Left Behind the lies of the Common Core State Standards Initiative and other common reform schemes The authors provide an evidence based contrarian view of the free market reform ideas and pierce the veil of the new reform policies to find that they are built not upon empirical evidence but instead rest solidly on foundations of myth fear and lies Ideas for a new set of reform policies based on empirical evidence and supportive of a unitary democratic system of education are presented

Elizabeth Graue, 2020-04-23 Scientific Influences on Early Childhood Education offers a new framework for examining the diverse scientific perspectives that shape early childhood education As the field takes on an increasing role in addressing children's educational developmental and environmental needs it is critical to more fully understand and appreciate the diverse scientific roots of contemporary early childhood education This edited collection brings together leading researchers to explain and unpack perspectives that are not often associated with early childhood education yet have made significant contributions to its development and evolution Essential reading for anyone working with young children this critical and insightful text illuminates the connections between our social values science and research in the field

The Other Side of the Report Card Maurice J. Elias, Joseph J. Ferrito, Dominic C. Moceris, 2015-12-14 To better serve the whole child look at the whole report card Students are more than their academic grades you know it and their parents know it The progress they make in social emotional learning and character development is essential to their success in school and in life But while educators have made great strides in improving grading for academic achievement we've left too many teachers still guessing when it comes to outdated behavior ratings and comment sections That's where this book comes in Grounded in research and in the author's work with teachers and administrators it offers guidance on retooling report cards to better reflect the whole child integrating SEL and CD into any school or district wide grading system Resources include Guided exercises for analyzing existing report cards Samples and suggested report card designs Tips on improving communication with parents Case studies highlighting common challenges Testimonials from teachers and students When you take report cards to the next level you make sure that communication reflects all of the important characteristics of success and ensure that students develop the skills they need for the future This book brilliantly illuminates the key role played by social emotional learning in each student's development and it challenges the tradition of relegating the SEL EQ observations to the back of the report card If we want to develop better communities this book shows the way Dr Neil MacNeill PhD EdD Head Master Ellenbrook Independent Primary School The ultimate goal of misbehavior is attention When children don't get the attention they need through the proper behavior they will get it any way they can Children want to be loved and cared about SEL will help them to learn the proper ways to get attention It will also help teachers better understand the misbehaviors and redirect students toward positive behavior Pamela L Opel Teacher Intervention Specialist Gulfport School District
