Shakespeare in the Theatre: Patrice Chéreau Dominique Goy-Blanquet, 2018-04-19 Patrice Chéreau 1944 2013 was one of France's leading directors in the theatre and on film and a major influence on Shakespearean performance. He is internationally known for memorable productions of both drama and opera. His life-long companionship with Shakespeare began in 1970 when his innovative Richard II made the young director famous overnight and caused his translator to denounce him publicly as an iconoclast for a production mixing music hall, circus and pankration. After this break Chéreau read Shakespeare's texts assiduously line by line and word by word with another renowned poet Yves Bonnefoy. Drawing on new interviews with many of Chéreau's collaborators, this study explores a unique theatre maker's interpretations of Shakespeare in relation to the European tradition and to his wider body of work on stage and film to establish his profound influence on other producers of Shakespeare.

Writing and Race Tim Youngs, 2017-07-28 Writing and Race brings together specially commissioned essays by new and established authors from a range of disciplines. Texts are drawn from subjects and genres that include philosophy, politics, anthropology, sexuality, travel, fiction and autobiography. Through a time span from Ancient Greece to the present day and a geographical coverage from Australia and Europe to the Caribbean and the United States, the collection investigates the importance of place, moment, cultural formation and subject identity in racial representation. A substantial introduction establishes the connections between the essays and lucidly summarizes recent thinking on race, explaining in particular the relevance of debates about ethnography. Accessible and stimulating, Writing and Race is a multidisciplinary collection that will be of interest to students, researchers and lecturers who study or are interested in race. The essays represent a variety of critical approaches, thus allowing the reader to compare and contrast the benefits of each approach. Extracts of some of the texts that are discussed are included along with an extensive bibliography to encourage further study.

Black Poets in French Marie Collins, 1972 The Oxford Guide to Literature in English Translation Peter France, 2000 Translation has been a crucial process in world culture over the past two millennia and more. In the English-speaking cultures many of the most important texts are translations from Homer to Beckett, the Bible to Freud. Although recent years have seen a boom in translation studies, there has been no comprehensive yet convenient guide to this essential element of literature in English. Written by eminent scholars from many countries, the Oxford Guide to Literature in English Translation meets this need and will be essential reading for all students of English and comparative literature. It highlights the place of translation in our culture, encouraging awareness of the issues raised, making the translator more visible. Concentrating on major writers and works, it covers translations out of many languages from Greek to Korean, from Swahili to Russian. For some works, e.g. Virgil's Aeneid, which have been much translated, the discussion is historical and critical, showing how translation has evolved over the centuries and bringing out the differences between versions. Elsewhere, with less familiar literatures, the Guide examines the extent to which translation has done justice to the range of work.

available The Guide is divided into two parts Part I contains substantial essays on theoretical questions a pioneering outline of the history of translation into English and discussions of the problems raised by specific types of text e g poetry oral literature The second much longer part consists of entries grouped by language of origin some are devoted to individual texts e g the Thousand and One Nights or writers e g Ibsen Proust but the majority offer a critical overview of a genre e g Chinese poetry Spanish Golden Age drama or of a national literature e g Hungarian Scottish Gaelic There is a selective bibliography for each entry and an index of authors and translators

Ernest Lapointe and Quebec's Influence on Canadian Foreign Policy John MacFarlane, 1999-01-01 The influence of Ernest Lapointe in 20th century Canadian political history is one of the least understood Analysing 17 foreign policy decisions the author uncovers Lapointe's relationship with Mackenzie King and the voice of Quebec he represented

Rome the Sorceress André Frénaud, 1996 First known for his war time poems written from a German labour camp notably his sombre reworkings of the myth of the Magi André Frénaud 1907-1993 is one of the most searching of French poets His work is structured by a sense of quest which gives it its labyrinthine patterns underground tensions and fractured inventive forms His poetry has an epic and tragic dimension spurred by an urge for transcendence it refuses false paradises arrivals and notions of reconciliation Rome the Sorceress 1973 is Fr naud s richest and most disturbing confrontation with the hidden life of myths and the sacred probing the themes of time inheritance revolt illusions of divinity father gures mother gures and the insatiable monuments of language which pretend to grapple with this weight of experience Poetry Book Society Recommended Translation

Cajun Literature and Cajun Collective Memory Mathilde Köstler, 2022-12-19 How does Cajun literature emerging in the 1980s represent the dynamic processes of remembering in Cajun culture Known for its hybrid constitution and deeply ingrained oral traditions Cajun culture provides an ideal testing ground for investigating the collective memory of a group In particular francophone and anglophone Cajun texts by such writers as Jean Arceneaux Tim Gautreaux Jeanne Castille Zachary Richard Ron Thibodeaux Darrell Bourque and Kirby Jambon reveal not only a shift from an oral to a written tradition They also show hybrid perspectives on the Cajun collective memory Based on recurring references to place the texts also reflect on the Acadian past and reveal the innate ability of the Cajuns to adapt through repeated intertextual references The Cajun collective memory is thus defined by a transnational outlook a transversality cutting across various ethnic heritages to establish and legitimize a collective identity both amid the linguistic and cultural diversity in Louisiana and in the face of American mainstream culture Cajun Literature and Cajun Collective Memory represents the first analysis of the mnemonic strategies Cajun writers use to explore and sustain the Cajun identity and collective memory

Derrida and Autobiography

Robert Smith,1995-06 The work of Jacques Derrida can be seen to reinvent most theories In this book Robert Smith offers both a reading of the philosophy of Derrida and an investigation of current theories of autobiography Smith argues that for Derrida autobiography is not so much subjective self revelation as relation to the other not so much a general condition of thought as a general condition of writing what Derrida calls the autobiography of the writing which mocks any self centred finitude of living and dying In this context and using literary critical philosophical and psychoanalytical sources Smith thinks through Derrida s texts in a new but distinctly Derridean way and finds new perspectives to analyse the work of classical writers including Hegel Nietzsche Kierkegaard Freud and de Man European Film Noir Andrew Spicer,2019-01-04

European Film Noir is the first book to bring together specialist discussions of film noir in specific European national cinemas Written by leading scholars this groundbreaking study provides an authoritative understanding of an important aspect of European cinema and of film noir itself for too long considered as a solely American form The Introduction reviews the problems of defining film noir its key characteristics and discusses its significance to the development of European film the relationship of specific national films noirs to each other to American noir and to historical and social change Eight chapters then discuss film noir in France Germany Britain and Spain analysing both earlier developments and the evolution of neo noir through to the present A further chapter explores film noir in Italian cinema where its presence is not so well defined Each piece provides a critical overview of the most significant films in relation to their industrial and social contexts European Film Noir is an important contribution to the study of European cinema that will have a broad appeal to undergraduates cin astes film teachers and researchers Poésie Ininterrompue II Paul Éluard,1996

Paul luard s poetry is concerned with sexual desire and the desire for social change A central participant in Dada and in the Surrealist movement luard joined the French Communist Party and worked actively in the Resistance in Nazi occupied Paris Caught between the horrors of Stalinism and post war right wing anti communism his writing sustains an insistent vision of poetry as a multi faceted weapon against injustice and oppression For luard poetry is a way of in ltrating the reader with greater emotional awareness of the social problems of the modern world Unbroken Poetry II published posthumously in 1953 pays tribute to Dominique luard with whom Paul spent the last years of his life It traces the internal dialogues of a passionate relationship as well as of his continuing re evaluation of the poetic project it self It centres on political commitment and places it at the heart of the lovers desire The Random House Book of 20th Century French Poetry Paul Auster,1984-01-12

During the 20th Century France was home to many of the world s greatest poets This collection highlights some of the very best verse that came out of a country and century defined by war and liberation Indispensable a book that everyone interested in modern poetry should have close to hand a source of renewable delights and discoveries a book that will long claim our attention Peter Brooks The New York Times Book Review One of the freshest and most exciting books of poetry to appear in a long while Paul Auster has provided the best possible point of entry into this century s most influential body of poetry
