 Banker,2018-09-17 Ferenc Morton Szasz was a lifelong student who became a professor of history at the University of New Mexico As a one year appointment at the Albuquerque campus evolved into a forty year career Szasz glimpsed the predictable unpredictability that he would eventually discern as one of history s most enduring and elusive traits The connections and consequences along the way forged a truly exceptional life and career A master of the United States history survey Szasz enthralled and inspired tens of thousands of students with energy enthusiasm provocative insights and good will Ambitious undergraduates regularly vied with graduate students for coveted seats in his upper level courses where he offered insights into World War II American religious history and popular culture Szasz s interests he insisted were the ideas of the people and how they shift over time In an era when historical scholarship became increasingly specialized he pursued an eclectic array of research interests and challenged his doctoral students to do the same The ten selections of Szasz s writings that are the primary content of this volume balance insights into history s great moments with attention to events and details often overlooked by more conventional historians Szasz s crisp accessible prose reveals both the unique and universal in the human experience and offers heartfelt glimpses into humanity s paradoxical promises and perils Back cover

The African Heritage of Latinx and Caribbean Literature Sarah M. Quesada,2022-08-04 The African Heritage of Latinx and Caribbean Literature unearths a buried African archive within widely read Latinx writers of the last fifty years It challenges dominant narratives in World Literature and transatlantic studies that ignore Africa s impact in broader Latin American culture Sarah Quesada argues that these canonical works evoke textual memorials of African memory She shows how the African Atlantic haunts modern Latinx and Caribbean writing and examines the disavowal or distortion of the African subject in the constructions of national racial sexual and spiritual Latinx identity Quesada shows how themes such as the 19th century scramble for Africa the decolonizing wars Black internationalism and the neoliberal turn are embedded in key narratives Drawing from multilingual archives about West and Central Africa she examines how the legacies of colonial French Iberian British and U S Imperialisms have impacted on the relationships between African and Latinx identities This is the first book length project to address the African colonial and imperial inheritance of Latinx literature Writers Forum
