Total Quality Management for Home Care Elaine R. Davis, 1994 Donna Peters a noted expert in outcomes and data management in home health care and Tad McKeon author of Home Health Financial Management team up to assess the current home health care environment in light of quality cost and data collection issues The most prevalent sources of data including outcomes measurement professional standards regulatory requirements consumer expectations care guidelines and activity based costing are examined The book addresses how one uses data to derive information that can be used to improve performance and examines how to use data to achieve excellence not just to satisfy regulators Home Health Care Provider Emily Prieto, 2008-06-09 This book is designed to foster quality care to home care recipients It is written for companions home health aides and other care givers who deliver non medical home care Prieto provides information tips and techniques on personal care routines as well as additional responsibilities that are often necessary in this work including home safety and maintenance meal planning errand running caring for couples and making use of recreational time Going beyond standard nurses aide training manuals the book focuses on the psycho social needs of home care recipients stressing the need to maintain the house as a home and sustaining the recipient's way of life throughout caregiving situations Prieto stresses interpersonal skills that benefit recipient and caregiver creating a systematic easy to follow plan for delivering quality service and maintaining or improving quality of life

CRIME IN THE HOME HEALTH CARE FIELD Brian K. Payne, 2003-01-01 Over the past couple of decades individuals have come to rely more on home health care visits for their health care needs While there have been decreases in hospital stays and in the percentage of older persons living in nursing homes the consequence has been the emergence of a new type of occupational crime home health care abuse In considering offending in the home health care industry it is important to focus on crimes by and against home health care professionals This book is one of the first to fully address abuses occurring in the home health care industry Its intent is not to suggest that home health care is a dangerous field for workers and consumers rather the intent is to shed some light on the types of misconduct found in home health care Each chapter will include a wealth of examples to illustrate that these incidents actually are real devastating and significant At the end of each chapter the reader will find a series of discussion questions designed to encourage the reader to reflect back on the content of the chapter through the eyes of those involved in the response to home health care fraud Also included are Web site addresses where readers can learn more about the offenses and other resources to help demonstrate ways to deal with the problem It is intended for criminal justice officials health care professionals academics and researchers who want to better understand the nature of offending in the home health care industry It is also intended for use in criminal justice sociology and white collar crime courses exploring crime in the workplace as well as courses examining the home health care field Chapters include Home Home on the Range Where Health Care is Provided and Crimes are Committed Home Health Care Professionals as Victims and Witnesses Crimes by Home

Health Professionals Violence Theft and Deception Responding to Crime in the Home Health Care Field Strategies Obstacles and Issues and Preventing Home Health Care Misconduct     The Heart of Long Term Care Rosalie A. Kane, Robert L. Kane, Richard C. Ladd, 1998 Long term care in the United States has taken the nursing home as its benchmark but the monetary social and psychological costs of nursing home care are all too high This book challenges the current dominance of nursing homes as the principal institution of long term care It offers a series of alternative models where both services and housing can be provided in a way that allows long term consumers to enjoy dignified normal lifestyles It addresses the political and economic consequences of making this decision The authors start with the premise that long term care is designed to assist people who lack the capacity to function fully independently They argue that no disabled person of any age should be required to forsake his her humanity in exchange for care The book rejects the artificial dichotomy between social and medical care asserting that both play important roles in psychological and physical well being of long term care patients The authors consider the need for competent and compassionate medicine and discuss the methods for improving both its coordination of care and its effectiveness The book redefines the meaning of safety and protection in long term care and how this goal can be accomplished without sacrificing quality of living As the new millennium and the aging of baby boomers approaches more creative approaches to providing better long term care are required This volume outlines a useful framework for the provision of effective and humane community based programs that are both feasible and affordable It will be an invaluable guide for geriatricians public health professionals family physicians nurses and others who care for elderly patients     Federal Register ,2013-10     In-home Supportive Services California.
