Abstract—The purpose of this study was to determine the effect of a 12-week training program on the heart rate (HR) and heart rate reserve (HRR) of sedentary middle-aged men. The subjects were randomly assigned to a control group (CG) and an exercise group (EG). The EG performed a 12-week training program consisting of three sessions per week. The CG did not exercise. The HR and HRR were measured at rest and during submaximal and maximal exercise at baseline and after 12 weeks. The EG showed a significant decrease in HR at rest and during submaximal and maximal exercise, and a significant increase in HRR at rest and during submaximal and maximal exercise, compared to the CG. The results of this study suggest that a 12-week training program can improve the HR and HRR of sedentary middle-aged men.

Investigating the Elements of Plant Defense Mechanisms Within Plant Immune Responses Against Pathogens

Katarzyna Otulak-Kozieł, Edmund Kozieł, Jozef Julian Bujarski, 2024-11-11 Biotic stress can increase or reduce a plant's susceptibility to specific pathogens A wide range of plant pathogens i.e. viruses bacteria and fungi causing diseases modulate different elements of plant defense mechanisms responses that influence disease and the physiological state of host plants Nevertheless plant hosts are not static and defenseless Plants have developed active and dynamic complex defense mechanisms to protect themselves against different pathogenic stressors Plants defense mechanisms consist of multi elements and can be determined by pre formed natural barriers or inducible defense responses directly activated upon detection of a pathogen The inducible response is defined as basal resistance or innate immunity and is regulated by signal transduction and transcriptional networks Moreover plant responses to pathogens are finely tuned and complex at the immune receptor cellular proteome epigenetic and transcriptome levels We can tell that a sophisticated molecular arms race is taking place in the biological co evolution of plant pathogen interactions especially in developing novel elements involved in this interaction Therefore a comprehensive understanding of the broad spectrum and underlying elements of defense mechanisms in the interactions between plants and their pathogenic enemies will improve plant resistance to pathogens
