In Seedfolks, Newbery Medalist Paul Fleischman creates an urban garden that brings a new sense of hope and community to a bleak Cleveland neighborhood. Seedfolks consists of a series of first-person vignettes, each told by a different character. As perspectives, dispositions, and backgrounds shift with the narrators, the reader comes to understand the personal reasons that bring these thirteen very different individuals together into a vibrant lot to plant and maintain. Despite prejudices, tensions, and language differences, the isolated neighbors begin to find ways of overlooking those barriers to develop new relationships with one another. Witnessing the multifarious seedfolks have developed a sense of pride and fellowship. The distinct voices of each character show the reader the vast differences and similarities that can exist simultaneously among diverse people, and how these differences can actually help those people form a community as vibrant and rich as the garden they have created.
