Essays on Ethics and Feminism Sabina Lovibond,2015-10-08 Essays on Ethics and Feminism is a selection of the shorter writings of Sabina Lovibond one of the most distinctive voices in contemporary philosophy since the 1980s This work lays claim to a broad thematic unity based on its affiliation to the realist or rationalist traditions in moral philosophy Some of the essays seek to clarify the relation of feminism to these traditions and to current anti rationalist tendencies especially important here are the status and prospects of normativity autonomy purposive action and other conceptual resources for critical thinking which were called into question over roughly the last third of the twentieth century not least by feminist writers heedful of continental European developments All of the essays are concerned with fundamental ethical questions including but not restricted to questions of feminist ethics such as the nature of value and the good life moral requirements and their associated epistemology character formation and the ideological critique of the processes by which this is effected The essays deploy ideas drawn both from Platonic Aristotelian and from Kantian ethics as well as from the later philosophy of Wittgenstein However they also attempt to respond to the destabilizing impact of Nietzschean and postmodernist thought The writing is addressed to those engaged in or with some interest in academic philosophy and draws on a wide range of philosophical source materials but avoids unnecessary technicality In the same way it should appeal to those with a pre existing interest in academic feminism and in some forms of feminist activism but could also serve to draw new readers into the domain of feminist thought
