Effective and Equitable Teacher Practice in Mathematics and Science Education Nani Teig, Trude Nilsen, Kajsja Yang Hansen, 2024-03-19 This open access book presents original research on effective and equitable teacher practice in mathematics and science education across Nordic countries It focuses on three key aspects of teacher practice what teachers teach how teachers teach and how teachers assess their students To provide a comprehensive understanding of teacher practice data from the IEA's Trends in Mathematics and Science Study TIMSS from 2011 to 2019 was analyzed. TIMSS provides large scale and representative data allowing an in depth investigation of the relations between teachers' practices and student outcomes. The findings highlight the changes in teacher practice over time and the extent to which such changes explain the differences in student outcomes. This research also contributes to understanding how the relationships between teacher practice and student outcomes vary across different student groups i.e. gender, socioeconomic status and language background. The empirical evidence presented not only adds a significant layer to the academic discourse but also offers practical implications. These insights are crucial in facilitating educational policymaking and classroom practices aimed at improving student outcomes and closing gaps in educational inequality.

School Science Practical Work in Africa Umesh Ramnarain, 2020-06-01. School Science Practical Work in Africa presents the scope of research and practice of science practical work in African schools. It brings together prominent science educators and researchers from Africa to share their experience and findings on pedagogical innovations and research informed practices on school science practical work. The book highlights trends and patterns in the enactment and role of practical work across African countries. Practical work is regarded as intrinsic to science teaching and learning and the form of practical work that is strongly advocated is inquiry based learning which signals a definite paradigm shift from the traditional teacher dominated to a learner centered approach. The book provides empirical research on approaches to practical work, contextual factors in the enactment of practical work and professional development in teaching practical work. This book will be of great interest to academics, researchers and post graduate students in the fields of science education and educational policy.

Teaching Reading Comprehension to English Learners in Secondary Schools: A Research-Based Approach Cekiso, Madoda, Olifant, Florence, Mokhtari, Kouider, 2025-04-23. Teaching reading comprehension to English learners (ELs) in secondary schools presents unique challenges as these students must navigate the complexities of academic texts and the intricacies of language acquisition. Effective instruction requires a research based approach that considers the diverse linguistic, cultural and cognitive backgrounds of these learners. Recent studies highlight the importance of integrating strategies that build both language proficiency and content knowledge essential for helping ELs develop the skills needed to comprehend complex materials. Fostering metacognitive awareness through strategies like summarizing, questioning and making connections can empower students to become active and strategic readers. This approach recognizes the need for a supportive, inclusive classroom environment that encourages language development while promoting academic achievement in content areas. Further research may help educators provide English learners with the tools to thrive as capable readers in secondary school.
