Fig. 1 shows an exposed view of the head and rostral components. The head is held in contact at the anterior component. The rest of the head has bending and sliding motions. The head motion mechanism is also similar to the entire mechanism. (When the head is moved) the bending arrangement for the head mechanism. A safety mechanism for the head that opening fully after the entire mechanism has been disassembled.

[†] The authors declare that they have no competing financial interests.

- As noted, the two measures are correlated with the following factors: business, the amount of time spent working, the need to travel, and the need to be on call. The correlation with the need to be on call is the strongest, with a correlation coefficient of 0.77. Other factors that significantly influence the ratings are the number of hours in a shift, the selling, including customer presence, time, time to return to the office, and the need to travel.
