2004 New York State Statistical Yearbook Nelson A. Rockefeller Institute of Government,2004-11 A yearbook containing demographic population financial education and other statistics on New York State Powerless Diana Hernández,Jennifer Laird,2025-04-08 Energy serves as the lifeblood of our daily experiences It permeates virtually every aspect of our existence facilitating nourishment safety and productivity When affordability threatens energy s availability a family s living situation can become untenable too cold too hot too dark and too often unhealthy and unsafe In Powerless sociologists Diana Hernández and Jennifer Laird reveal the hidden hardship of energy insecurity the inability to adequately meet household energy needs Approximately one in ten households in the U S are energy insecure and four in ten are at risk for energy insecurity These statistics alone do not convey the acute pain of utility shutoffs or the relentless toll of chronic energy hardships marked by difficult choices and harsh living conditions Drawing on survey data and interviews with one hundred energy insecure individuals and families Hernández and Laird detail the experience of energy insecurity Individuals and families suffering from energy insecurity endure economic hardships such as difficulty paying utility bills utility debt and disconnection from utility services They also struggle with physical challenges such as poor housing conditions and poor or dysfunctional heating and cooling systems They are often forced to make difficult choices about what bills to pay These decisions are sometimes referred to as heat or eat choices as families cannot afford to pay for heating and food at the same time Energy insecure individuals and families employ a variety of strategies to keep energy costs down to avoid having to make these hard choices This includes deliberate underconsumption of energy enduring physical discomfort and using dangerous alternatives such as open flames ovens or space heaters to try to maintain a comfortable temperature in their home To be energy insecure is to suffer Despite the heavy toll of energy insecurity most people confront these difficulties behind closed doors believing it is a private matter Thus the enormous social crisis of energy insecurity goes unnoticed Hernández and Laird argue that household energy is a basic human right and detail policies and practices that would expand access to consistent safe clean and affordable energy Their proposals include improving the current energy safety net which is limited and often does not serve the most energy insecure due to stringent program requirements and administrative burdens They also suggest redesigning rates to accommodate income promoting enrollment and expansion of discount programs reforming utility disconnection policies improving energy literacy and ensuring an equitable shift to renewable energy resources Powerless creates a comprehensive picture of the complex social and environmental issue of energy insecurity and shows how energy equity is not just an aspiration but an achievable reality New York State Statistical Yearbook, 2006 ,2006 Published annually this collection of statistical tables is organized into chapters focusing on governmental functions such as Education Transportation and Finance The data presented is most often supplied by New York State agencies State of the Child in New York State ,1988 Abstract State of the Child in New York State presents a comprehensive uniform collection of data about children and their families This book is designed to meet the information needs of state and local government officials program planners providers advocates and researchers Organized by the major systems or institutions that affect the lives of children State of the Child in New York State contains nine chapters Demographic Overview Children in Families Economic Status of Children Child Care Health and illness of Children Children in School Victimization of Children Children and Youth in the Justice System and Children in Out of Home Care Trends are presented and discussed to identify emerging issues and children s progress on long standing issues are assessed Real Property Circuit Breaker Tax Credit Use in New York State ,1998
