tactics examined variously from the perspective of multinational firms entering these new markets from the viewpoint of existing local firms facing new competitive challenges from global entrants and from the perspective of local firms seeking to establish themselves in foreign markets where they have not previously competed Most of the individual chapters are revised versions of papers originally presented at a conference sponsored by the William Davidson Institute which focuses on research related to emerging and transitional economies and have not previously appeared in published form Thus the book is a unique collection of cutting edge scholarship on the various aspects of marketing in transitional economies It will prove valuable reading to academics policymakers and international business strategists
