Lawless Borders Elspeth Guild, Valsamis Mitsilegas, Niovi Vavoula, 2025-07-24 Immigration

control in the West has increasingly focused on preventing migrants from reaching the external border and the territory of states This book provides an in depth analysis of the evolving preventive immigration control system and highlights the many ways in which contemporary border controls undermine the rule of law By examining border control practices at the state and European levels including by EU agencies and through the use of AI the book explores how these measures affect the rule of law across different areas including extraterritorial immigration control control of the external borders and the digitalization of border control This is an essential resource presenting a comprehensive and nuanced understanding of today's border management challenges

Assessing Academic Literacy in a Multilingual Society Albert Weideman, John Read, Theo du Plessis, 2020-11-02 South African universities face major challenges in meeting the needs of their students in the area of academic language and literacy The dominant medium of instruction in the universities is English and to a much lesser extent Afrikaans but only a minority of the national population are native speakers of these languages Nine other languages can be media of instruction in schools which makes the transition to tertiary education difficult enough in itself for students from these schools The focus of this book is on procedures for assessing the academic language and literacy levels and needs of students not in order to exclude students from higher education but rather to identify those who would benefit from further development of their ability in order to undertake their degree studies successfully The volume also aims to bring the innovative solutions designed by South African educators to a wider international audience

International Anti-Corruption Norms Cecily Rose, 2015-08-13 This book traces the creation of international anti corruption norms by states and other actors through four markedly different institutions the Organisation for Economic Co operation and Development the United Nations the Extractive Industries Transparency Initiative and the Financial Action Task Force Each of these institutions oversees an international instrument that requires states to combat corruption Yet only the United Nations oversees anti corruption norms that take the sole form of a binding multilateral treaty The OECD has by contrast fostered the development of the binding 1997 OECD Anti Bribery Convention as well as non binding recommendations and guidance associated with treaty itself In addition the revenue transparency and anti money laundering norms developed through the Extractive Industries Transparency Initiative and the Financial Action Task Force respectively take the form of non binding instruments that have no relationship with multilateral treaties The creation of international anti corruption norms through non binding instruments and informal institutions has the potential to privilege the interests of powerful states in ways that raise questions about the normative legitimacy of these institutions and the instruments they produce At the same time the anti corruption instruments created under the auspices of these institutions also show that non binding instruments and informal institutions carry significant advantages The non binding instruments in the anti corruption field have demonstrated a capacity to influence domestic legal systems that is comparable to if not greater than that of binding treaties With corruption and money laundering at the forefront of political debate International Anti Corruption Norms provides timely expertise on how states and international institutions grapple with these global problems EBOOK: A-Z of Teaching Jonathan Savage, Martin Fautley, 2013-07-16 A Z of Teaching provides an informative engaging and accessible introduction to the art and craft of teaching introducing you to a range of essential topics alongside some of the key ideas and key thinkers from the educational research literature The topics covered range from practical teaching advice on areas such as questioning to exploration of significant themes within education such as creativity Each entry includes An introduction to the topic with a definition of the term An exploration of key ideas within the topic Reference to the work of key thinkers who have explored the topic in the educational literature How these ideas apply in your day to day practice of teaching and learning A set of questions for you to consider as you seek to develop your pedagogy in a particular topic area Further reading and references including links to relevant writings in other publications or online sources Teaching is a broad and complex activity so whether you are thinking about becoming a teacher training to be a teacher or a qualified teacher wishing to keep abreast of the latest thinking in the field the ideas contained in this book will prove helpful and constructive as you seek to develop your teaching skills Every so often a new idea unfolds that seems so deceptively simple that one wonders why it hasn't appeared before now this is the case with A Z of Teaching Serving as a high definition map of classroom teaching it provides mentorship for survival and thriving in the profession Comprehensive without being laboured rich in concepts without succumbing to clutter ingeniously economic in the identification of key themes without being trifling Savage and Fautley manage to distil the important and inspiring from vast amounts of theory research and practical experience of teaching and present the essential elements in a most accessible manner for early career teachers More experienced educators will also find many gems to renew and inspire their practice The approach is pragmatic whilst never seeking to trivialise the challenges of teaching or the vast amounts of extant theories Most importantly the reflective questions at the end of each section serve to provoke further thinking research and action thus contributing meaningfully to the development of effective and reflective teachers for contemporary schools Regina Murphy PhD Senior Lecturer St Patrick's College Dublin City University Ireland The construction of this book is very satisfying it is so straightforward to access and simultaneously works at so many levels Using the tried and tested structure of an A to Z listing Jonathan Savage and Martin Fautley consider a number of highly significant aspects of education pedagogy and professional issues for teachers at all stages of their professional development In their consideration of some 103 topics they skilfully blend key theoretical underpinning with current practice in the classroom making this book extremely useable by teachers in all sectors and age phases The range of topics makes this especially useful because it covers some big issues but also explores some less frequently covered things such as audience and elicitation What I have found particularly helpful is the fact that in this book I readily recognise aspects of my own classroom practice in the overview of each topic but I am encouraged and inspired to reflect more deeply on my professional development in the light of the collected wisdom and challenging questions This book will be an invaluable tool for training and beginning teachers as well as for those with years of experience. The inclusion of key questions and further reading means that it can serve as a very accessible reference book, an aide memoir or as a stimulus for more detailed debate, discussion or professional development. Consequently, it will support the work of individuals, department or phase teams or even larger groups. The potential to individualise training and coaching by referring trainees to relevant entries is great. I will certainly want to use it when working with trainee teachers and also with teachers undertaking CPD and Masters qualifications. I look forward to Volume 2 appearing in the future.

I am delighted to welcome this brief but important compendium of the A-Z of Teaching written by Jonathan Savage and Martin Fautley, authors with extensive experience of teaching. This book provides eloquent insights and distilled definitions of key terms and concepts in an introductory way that will inform, inspire, engage and help navigate through the maze of key terms which busy students in initial teacher education and practising teachers simply must read.

Pamela Burnard
Faculty of Education, University of Cambridge UK

This is a very entertaining and well-structured resource written in easy and accessible language. It contains a serious, carefully referenced introduction to a number of major issues encountered in the early stages of learning to teach. It will be equally useful for beginners or experienced teachers and mentors as it gives practical guidance about some of the areas for discussion, coaching and assistance which commonly arise when learning to teach.

Professor Janet Hoskyns
Head of School Education, Birmingham City University UK

A-Z Of Teaching Savage, Jonathan, Fautley, Martin, 2013-07-01. This is an informative, engaging and accessible book about teaching that covers a broad range of content without being superficial.

A scholarly contribution to educational praxis M.A. Mokoena, J.M. (Ona) Janse van Rensburg, M. Erasmus, E. Mentz, C.B. Zulu, A. Cronje, E.K. Materechera, W.T. Dudu, A.T. Kanyimba, S.P. Raath, C. Kruger, A. Loubser, A.E. Pienaar, A. Kloppe, S. Ellis, N.T. Petersen, J. de Beer, J. Varughese, A. Seugnet Blignaut, C. Els, 2016-12-31. This publication contains original research targeting scientific specialists in the field of education through research endeavours grounded on a philosophical basis as well as being embedded in the empirical. The research methodology of each chapter emanates from applicable philosophical assumptions in the form of an applicable theoretical and conceptual framework. The latter forms a firm basis for the application of sound empiricism. The content of this book adds to the body of scholarly knowledge in education. In his evaluation of the book, Acting Executive Dean, Faculty of Education and Training, Professor Akpovire Oduaran made the following remarks: To a large extent, the ideas put together in this book have come from data generated not just from literature found in books and journals but actual interactions with educators and the learning environment. So then what the reader is offered in this volume is the articulation of ideas that have been interrogated, structured and presented in surprisingly simplistic and yet incisive and academically enriching content that can match the standards of scholarship that is available in the Western World. Yet what makes this book so welcome, relevant and timely is the fact that it is built around Afrocentric theories and practices such as one may find in imported literature.

Performance Costume Sofia Pantouvaki, Peter McNeil, 2020-12-10 Costume is an active agent for performance making it is a material object that embodies ideas shaped through collaborative creative work A new focus in recent years on research in the area of costume has connected this practice in vital and new ways with theories of the body and embodiment design practices artistic and other forms of collaboration Costume like fashion and dress is now viewed as an area of dynamic social significance and not simply as passive reflector of a pre conceived social state or practice This book offers new approaches to the study of costume as well as fresh insights into the better understood frames of historical theoretical practice based and archival research into costume for performance This anthology draws on the experience of a global group of established researchers as well as emerging voices Below is a list of just some of the things it achieves 1 Introduces diverse perspectives innovative new research methods and approaches for researching design and the costumed body in performance 2 Contributes towards a new understanding of how costume actually performs in time and space 3 Offers new insights into existing practices as well as creating a space of connection between practitioners and researchers from design the humanities and social sciences

Villalobos, Esteban Villalobos, 2023-05-05 This book examines the status of intercultural education in Chile. It does this through three axes: the first is multidisciplinary, including historical, anthropological, sociological, and pedagogical, to account for varied aspects of the Chilean intercultural education. The second is the consideration of multiple indigenous peoples, analyzing students' groups or indigenous peoples such as the Rapa Nui, Aymara, or Mapuche. Finally, the book has a multilevel perspective that recognizes that educational policy involves different actors, from the central government to local communities. The book incorporates study material enriched with the experience and analysis of different perspectives and methodologies of its authors, being useful for understanding intercultural education in the country. It is a versatile resource for understanding this topic as well as a support for the development of programs and policies.
