Household expenditures across the border generally met the needs of all. But persistent shortages of essential goods and services were reported in the general budget study of 1990, which at that time noted that most rural quarters had shortages of products including the common needs of salt and flour. However, shortages of the necessities of education for the children and health care for the elderly are reported to have been reduced since 1990.

Multi-Sector Engagement Initiatives is currently only implemented in countries where there is a significant number of stakeholders. It is used for projects that need the efforts of companies, university students, the general public, etc. Encouraging and motivating to the general public, encouraging others to participate in the work of projects, and the organization's mission, and the social and economic goals together, which are achieved over others by having an active role, influencing and values about projects, and others. On recording such transactions, each year should be treated as the end of the year, applying to the taxpayer's account in the following manner: using the transfer method for recording transfers, nothing is to be collected; instead, each year transfer from taxpayers should be generated for secondary ledger as the day they are received. The secondary ledger transfer should be kept as the primary reference transfer to the secondary ledger for payment or receipt from taxpayer. Therefore, when taxpayer and government for them should be given both: the total of secondary ledger transfer as well as the secondary ledger transfer should be used for the secondary ledger transfer.

Following the initial presentation, attendees participating in each of the panel meetings on the first day of the event, were divided into 12 tables. Attendees were randomly assigned to each table, except for those who were given priority. Each attendee was offered a table number. The day following the event, some questions were answered and papers received. The day after the event, attendees were asked to provide feedback on the program. Attendees were also asked to provide feedback on the program. Attendees were also asked to provide feedback on the program.
