Of The Plowden Report:

Perspectives on Plowden (RLE Edu K) R Peters, 2012-05-04 The Plowden Report Children and their Primary Schools 1967 had a huge impact on education in the latter 20th century but at the time was labelled as left wing and of no practical use to the problems of education in the 1960s The contributors to this volume were all concerned with the educational thinking of the Plowden Report and its appropriateness or otherwise to the educational needs of the day In quarters where the Plowden Report was treated as an authoritative textbook the views in this volume provide a valuable critique

Readings for Reflective Teaching Andrew Pollard, 2002-01-01 This unique book provides the reader with a mini library of over one hundred readings containing both classic and contemporary readings international contributors material drawn from books and journals An essential reference resource in its own right Readings for Reflective Teaching also contains numerous cross references to Andrew Pollards Reflective Teaching

The Urban Primary School Meg Maguire, Tim Wooldridge, Simon Pratt-Adams, 2006-05-16 This book offers an in depth understanding of the unique challenges and contributions of urban primary schools The authors set urban education in the wider social context of structural disadvantage poverty oppression and exclusion and reassert some critical urban educational concerns Recognising that practice needs to be informed by theory they provide a strong theoretical framework alongside contemporary ethnographic data Drawing on their extensive experience in urban primary schools as well as numerous case studies the authors present a fresh and stimulating view of urban primary schools which will inspire education professionals and academics alike The Urban Primary School is essential reading for teachers and trainee teachers in urban primary schools as well as for students of education policy makers parents and school governors

Border-crossing in Education Joëlle Droux, Rita Hofstetter, 2018-02-02 Border crossing in Education comprises a series of case studies covering a variety of cultural areas in order to reveal the density of connections and exchanges that inform educational practices policies and systems It attaches particular importance to individual and collective actors that govern these flows initiating promoting or reconfiguring transfers of policy models The contributors explore various aspects of the circulatory mechanisms that have been deployed in the field of education during the modern and contemporary period Varying the observation scales from local to international they demonstrate the multilateral character of the circulatory dynamics observed The implementation of rich and varied approaches to these complex processes offers a perspective that complements and renews our knowledge of the genesis and evolution of educational policies and systems most notably highlighting their foreign inspirations However these studies do not merely evoke borrowings and hybridization as if national borders proved porous or non existent Instead they show that the phenomena of resistance reinterpretation and rejection are also an integral part of transnational mechanisms of exchanges The book thus demonstrates the relevance of a historical approach in addressing these transnational mechanisms in the field of education and childhood policy This book was originally published as a special issue of Paedagogica Historica

Hearings, Reports and Prints of the Senate Committee on Commerce United States. Congress. Senate. Committee on Commerce, 1972 Child-Centred Education Christine Doddington, Mary Hilton, 2007-09-27 Against an increasingly authoritarian background of testing and instruction concern is growing about disengagement and loss of depth and quality in education at all levels Child Centred Education seeks to explore the role of Primary education within this debate The book will inspire teachers and head teachers seeking to make their practice more genuinely educational The authors capture the current opinion that primary schools can begin to reclaim some of their autonomy be innovative and become more creative Based on wide ranging research the book sets out to revive the creative alternative to the rigid and impoverished learning experienced by too many primary school children The authors Trace the origins and history of the child centred tradition Set out its fundamental beliefs and values Explore its place in education today This book is for teachers school governors local authority officers undergraduate and postgraduate teacher training and professional development courses Primary Education-- at a Hinge of History? Colin Richards, 1999 Colin Richards traces the perennial and emergent issues that have to be understood in order to influence the future of primary education in the post Plowden era that began in 1967

Education Policy Ian Abbott, Michael Rathbone, Phillip Whitehead, 2012-11-12 A splendid read Via interviews with several Secretaries of State for Education and a supporting analytical commentary Education Policy provides a fascinating insight and historical appraisal of English policy rationale Dr David Kitchener Reader in Education University of Bolton This book should be compulsory reading not only for people interested in the history of education policy but also for policy makers to remind them of what has gone before Dr Andrew Townsend University of Nottingham From Butler to Balls and beyond this essential book illuminates educational issues in England and Wales since WWII drawing on extensive documentary evidence Inside you will find in depth interviews with former Secretaries of State for Education and other key decision makers including Ed Balls David Blunkett Michael Gove Alan Johnson Ruth Kelly The interviews cover the historical context of their period of office and the lasting legacy of their policies This is a must read for Masters level students on Education courses and PGCE programmes and will be valuable to undergraduates studying modern history and social policy Ian Abbott is Director of the Warwick Institute of Education Mike Rathbone was previously Director of Continuing Professional Development in the Institute of Education Phil Whitehead is the course leader for the secondary PGCE Teach First All are at the University of Warwick Parents and Teachers Carol Vincent, 1996 This work examines the factors that shape and influence home school relations At its heart is an analysis of parent teacher relationships in an inner city borough drawn from case studies of five primary schools and a parents centre Interviews with parents are revealing windows into parents views on a range of issues including curriculum discipline and parents relationships with their children s teachers The author also considers teachers perspectives on these matters and explores the influence of social class ethnicity and gender on parent teacher interactions While presenting these issues within a consideration of broader themes such as citizenship community power and participation the book discusses the reasons why initiatives designed to improve home school relations appear to result in such limited change
