Public Investment Management Reference Guide Jay-Hyung Kim, Jonas Arp Fallov, Simon Groom, 2020-03-03 The Public Investment Management PIM Reference Guide aims to convey country experiences and good international practices as a basis for decisions on how to address a country specific PIM reform agenda The country references are drawn largely from previous diagnostics and technical assistance reports of the World Bank The application of country diagnostics and assessments has revealed a need to address the following issues when undertaking a country reform in PIM Clarification of the definition and scope of public investment and public investment management Establishment of a sound legal regulatory and institutional setting for PIM making sure it is linked to the budget process Allocation of roles and responsibilities for key players in PIM across government Strengthening of guidance on project preappraisal appraisal and selection prioritization procedures and deepening of project appraisal methodologies Integration of strategic planning project appraisal selection and capital budgeting Management of multiyear capital budget allocations and commitments Efforts to address effective implementation procurement and monitoring of projects Strengthening of asset management and ex post evaluation Integration of PIM and public private partnership PPP in a unified framework Rationalization and prioritization of the existing PIM project portfolio Development of a PIM database and information technology in the form of a PIM information system The PIM Reference Guide does not seek to provide definitive answers or standard guidance for the common PIM issues facing countries Nor does it seek to provide a detailed template for replication across countries this would be impossible given the diversity of country situations Instead each chapter begins with an overview of the specific reform issue lists approaches and experiences from different countries and summarizes the references and good practices to be considered in designing country specific reform actions

The New Enclosure Brett

Christophers,2018-11-06 Much has been written about Britain's trailblazing post 1970s privatization program but the biggest privatization of them all has until now escaped scrutiny the privatization of land Since Margaret Thatcher took power in 1979 and hidden from the public eye about 10 per cent of the entire British land mass including some of its most valuable real estate has passed from public to private hands Forest land defence land health service land and above all else local authority land for farming and school sports for recreation and housing has been sold off en masse Why How And with what social economic and political consequences The New Enclosure provides the first ever study of this profoundly significant phenomenon situating it as a centrepiece of neoliberalism in Britain and as a successor programme to the original eighteenth century enclosures With more public land still slated for disposal the book identifies the stakes and asks what if anything can and should be done

Illegal Drug Use Through The Lifecourse David Moxon,Jaime Waters,2016-10-04 Hidden older illegal drug users are a seldom researched group most research on illegal drug users instead focusses on the young or the institutionalised To counter this trend this book reports on a study of current hidden users of illegal drugs aged 40 and over These are individuals who have sustained illegal drug use over the long term largely away from the gaze of the authorities whilst living otherwise conventional lives holding down jobs raising families and so on Thus they have much to tell us about how illegal substances can be integrated into life over the long term how that integration intersects with other aspects of one's existence and how illegal drug use is ultimately shaped by changes in personal circumstances and wider social contexts Utilising insights from the life course perspective the development of the participants use over their lives is analysed and placed in social context The book also details the nature of their current drug use Thus the book illustrates the place of illegal drugs in the lives of the participants and how this came to be over the decades as they also juggled work family and the everyday minutiae of life with their use The result is a unique look at the illegal drug use of an often ignored group of older drug users which charts the changing role that illegal drugs have played and continue to play in their lives

Population Change in the United Kingdom Tony Champion, Jane Falkingham, 2016-07-27 A quarter of a century ago Heather Joshi edited a landmark volume sponsored by the British Society for Population Studies and the Centre for Economic Policy Research entitled The Changing Population of Britain. In 2014-15 to mark the 25th anniversary of this book the BPS teamed up with the British Academy to hold a series of events on population developments in the UK and the policy issues that they raise and has built on these presentations to produce a new edited collection on the changing population of the UK. This book shows that the UK's population is increasing faster than at any point in the last 100 years it is getting progressively older and it is becoming more diverse culturally and ethnically. More school leavers are going on to university. Cohabitation has been replacing marriage more children live in one parent families and young adults are finding it harder to get on the property ladder. Many women are delaying having children until their 40s. Cities have seen a resurgence in population but there is still pressure on the countryside while the north-south divide is getting ever wider as too are local socio-economic disparities. The contributors to this book document these changes, examine their causes and discuss future prospects and their policy implications.

Teaching the Discipline of History in an Age of Standards Jennifer Clark, Adele Nye, 2018-06-08 This book discusses the discipline standards of History in Australian universities in order to help historians understand the Threshold Learning Outcomes and to assist in their practical application. It is divided into two sections. The first offers a scholarly exploration of contemporary issues in history teaching while the second section discusses each of the Threshold Learning Outcomes and provides real world examples of quality pedagogical practice. Although the book focuses on the discipline of history in Australia other subjects and other countries are facing the same dilemmas. As such it includes chapters that address the international context and bring an international perspective to the engagement with discipline standards. The innovation and leadership of this scholarly community represents a new stage in the transformation and renewal of history teaching.

Driving Forensic Innovation in the 21st Century Simona Francese, Roberto S. P. King, 2024-05-13 This contributed volume offers a comprehensive and multifaceted understanding of the current forensic innovation landscape: enablers, road blockers and barriers to implementation. It also presents all aspects that need consideration to cross the valley of death between an idea and its successful implementation. It uniquely merges the technical and scientific aspects of some of the innovations that have been implemented across forensic science within the National and International landscape and with i) the necessary considerations to take into account on the road to success such as business planning, data privacy and legal and regulatory aspects; ii) the end users perspective; and iii) the industry perspective. Case studies illustrate what success looks like by discussing forensic innovations that have made it to the market and have subsequently impacted positively on criminal investigations. This book acts as a platform to facilitate the dialogue between key stakeholders in driving innovation: namely academia, industry and end users as well as indicating a roadmap to facilitate practical developments whilst serving as a revolutionary springboard to initiate an innovation transforming paradigm shift. This volume is a valuable contribution to the field and is of great interest to graduates and researchers engaged in forensic science forensic service providers and manufacturers as well as policymakers
