Peter M. Burns,Cathy Palmer,Jo-Anne Lester,2010 Tourism is an essentially visual experience we leave our homes so as to travel to see places thus adding to our personal knowledge about and experience of the world The study of tourism as a complex social phenomenon beyond simply business is increasing in importance and by providing an examination of perceptions of culture and society in tourism destinations through the tourist s eyes this book discusses how destinations were and are created and perceived through the lens of the tourist s gaze It is essential reading for researchers and students in tourism and related subjects Creating Digital Exhibits for Cultural Institutions Emily Marsh,2023-03-28 Creating Digital Exhibits for Cultural Institutions will show you how to create digital exhibits and experiences for your users that will be informative accessible and engaging Illustrated with real world examples of digital exhibits from a range of GLAMs the book addresses the many analytical aspects and practical considerations involved in the creation of such exhibits It will support you as you go about analyzing content to find hidden themes applying principles from the museum exhibit literature placing your content within internal and external information ecosystems selecting exhibit software and finding ways to recognize and use your own creativity Demonstrating that an exhibit provides a useful and creative connecting point where your content your organization and your audience can meet the book also demonstrates that such exhibits can provide a way to revisit difficult and painful material in a way that includes frank and enlightened analyses of issues such as racism colonialism sexism class and LGBTQI issues Creating Digital Exhibits for Cultural Institutions is an essential resource for librarians archivists and other cultural heritage professionals who want to promote their institution s digital content to the widest possible audience Academics and students working in the fields of library and information science museum studies and digital humanities will also find much to interest them within the pages of this book Destruction of Cultural Heritage in 19th-century France Michael Greenhalgh,2015-08-24 Destruction of Cultural Heritage in 19th Century France examines the fate of the building stock and prominent ruins of France especially Roman survivals in the 19th century supported by contemporary documentation and archives largely provided through the publications of scholarly societies The book describes the enormous extent of the destruction of monuments providing an antidote to the triumphalism and concomitant amnesia which in modern scholarship routinely present the 19th century as one of concern for the past It charts the modernising impulse over several centuries detailing the archaeological discoveries made and usually destroyed as walls were pulled down and town interiors re planned plus the brutal impact on landscape and antiquities as railways were laid out Heritage was largely scorned and identity found in modernity not the past

The Disciples at the Lord's Table Gerard Moore, 2015-06-22 The Disciples at Table The Christian Church Disciples of Christ is about to enter its third century of worship evangelism and Christian worship This book is a snapshot of their Table practice its origins forms prayers and ecumenical development Single minded pioneers and advocates of Eucharistic Table fellowship each Sunday the Disciples forged a unique experience of worship within the restorationist paradigm What did this worship look like A free tradition explicitly non liturgical these Christian communities were open to the directives of the Scriptures and the inspiration of the Spirit There were no official texts Yet there was a plethora of worship books and aids in effect unofficial texts operating to guide inform and develop the Disciples understanding of the Lord s Table and their worship For the first time these devotional books have been uncovered and studied revealing something of the deeper influences behind Disciples practice the common lines of thought and ritual that unknowingly bind the communities and the difficulties that have emerged in light of ongoing ecumenical worship and research

The Spartan Lady in Red Steve Spencer, 2025-04-11 This is a story of a modern day Spartan Though not a biography it is biographical in the form of anecdotal tales inspired by a life well lived The life and work of Debby House

Spencer positively affected folks and communities throughout Appalachia and the mid southern part of the USA Through dogged determination and her mantra of we make things happen she completed hundreds of projects by getting folks to work together Her mental and physical toughness were epic yet simple and stoic thus the Spartan analogy In her honor this book is a celebration of her life not about grieving and her death My method of dealing with her loss has been to write about Debby s anecdotal history and cherished memories from our 42 years together The anecdotes about my best friend lover wife and partner are blended with entries from my journal posted as a blog in the year following her death As a critic and unofficial editor she helped with my earlier book writing efforts She knew that specific truth involving my storytelling was semi twisted As Mark Twain stated A writer should never let the truth stand in the way of a good tale With that said do not assume that this is a work of fiction All the tales happened There are no lies and no fabrications However my memory may be somewhat fogged with age and the numerous blows to my head through the years This book is the result of encouragement by a wide range of folks Some had also lost spouses some only desired to read my tales but many were friends who thought I had some talent Though I question the talent thing writing is how I manage the grieving process from her loss And notice the tense in the previous sentence because memories last a lifetime and grief never ends Understanding that grief will never end does not mean I spend considerable time depressed Rather it is a recognition that life goes on albeit with significant changes

Ski, Climb, Fight Lance R. Blyth,2024-11-05 Mountains Carl von Clausewitz said introduce a retarding element into warfare To fight in mountains armies must overcome this challenge via survival strategies and mobility But the techniques and technologies for doing so are best found in civilian skiing and mountaineering communities a situation almost unique to mountain warfare Ski Climb Fight looks at how the 10th Mountain Division of World War II met this challenge and how the U S military does so today The first military history of that storied division the book is also the first general history of U S mountain warfare With a focus on strategy and doctrine Lance R Blyth explores how the military has adapted civilian gear and skills for surviving and moving in mountainous terrain to effectively conduct operations He traces the long standing but largely unexamined relationship between the civilian outdoor recreation industry and the military a relationship that figures in almost every aspect of military operations in mountainous terrain Intertwining the history of the World War II 10th Mountain Division and U S mountain warfare with the history of American skiing and mountaineering Ski Climb Fight is at once an unprecedented in depth account of one of the most celebrated military units of World War II and a fresh look at U S mountain warfare from its inception eighty years ago
