The Arc of Conversation Amy Shaw, PA, 2025-02-13 Intending to fill an important gap in medical training this book presents an easy to learn standardized approach to having compassionate and collaborative goals of care conversations with patients and families a skill that can be difficult for clinicians to learn and that is not part of standard medical education curricula Developed by a Palliative Care provider this is the first book to teach everything clinicians need to know to gently guide patients and families through what can often be difficult discussions about illness disease end of life wishes and hospice care This technique can be used to discuss any medical diagnosis or treatment be employed at any age or stage of an illness and can be used by health care professionals at any level Readers will be introduced to the patterns of decline patients follow toward the end of life criteria for recognizing when a patient s time is limited hospice care ground rules for compassionate communication and a step wise method of leading patients and families through difficult goals of care conversations in a collaborative way The book includes specific questions to ask and starter language clinicians can use for developing their own patient friendly talking points about disease progression the end of life concerns that a patient s time is limited advanced directives code status and hospice care An Arc of Conversation Guide for use when learning this technique is also included While modern medicine is terrific at acute stabilization of illness or injury it often ignores the elephant in the room disease progression and death By doing so the healthcare system frequently misses opportunities to align patient wishes with the care they receive Furthermore physicians often avoid difficult conversations with patients due to a lack of training or the assumption that hospice care represents medical or personal failure Incorporating the material and technique taught in The Arc of Conversation into everyday practice will enable clinicians to acknowledge and discuss patient decline and to confidently include hospice care as a viable option for treatment that can support patient values wishes and priorities Moving toward a continually collaborative approach with patients a shift away from physician directed care to patient centered care will enable clinicians to develop treatment plans that prioritize outcomes that matter most to patients and families improving patient and family experience of health care across their lives and providing patients with the soft landing they want at the end

Proxy War Ethics: The Norms of Partnering in Great Power Competition C. Anthony Pfaff, 2024-01-15 While proxy relationships can be an effective means international actors use to transfer risk and lower their costs to compete they also enable actors to circumvent international norms as well as create moral hazards that can make the practice self defeating if not simply unethical Applying the framework of the Just War Tradition this book highlights some of these ethical gaps and addresses how proxy relationships introduce additional obligations for both sponsor and proxy The author examines specific examples of how current precedents set a very high bar for accountability and perversely incentivizes sponsors to employ proxies while discouraging any effort to moderate proxy behavior since that could imply effective control In light of this the book offers policy recommendations on how to best manage these relationships while maintaining certain moral commitments

Ministry to the Sick and Dying in the Late Medieval Church Thomas M. Izbicki, 2023-09 The focus of this volume is on ministry to the sick and dying in the later Middle Ages especially providing them with the sacraments Medieval writers linked illness to sin and its forgiveness The priest as physician of souls was expected to heal the soul preparing it for the hereafter His ministry might also effect healing of bodies when that healing did not endanger the soul This book treats how a priest prepared to visit sick persons and went to them in procession with the Eucharist and oil of the sick The priest was to comfort the patient and if death was imminent prepare the soul for the hereafter Canon law theology and ritual sources are employed Three sacraments penance viaticum final communion and extreme unction anointing of the sick are treated in detail Sickbed confession was designed to forgive the ailing person's mortal sins A priest could absolve a dying person of all sins even those reserved to a bishop or the pope Viaticum was to strengthen a suffering Christian for life's last conflict that between angels and demons for the soul of the dying person The deathbed thus was a spiritual battlefield Extreme unction was reserved for those in danger of death relieving the soul of venial sins or the remains of sin even after confession and absolution The commendatio animae commendation of the soul used with the dying was to usher the soul into the afterlife Many works have been written about attitudes toward death dying and the afterlife in the Middle Ages Likewise there is a good deal of literature about individual sacraments This study aims at bridging between these literatures with a focus on the priest and parishioner in both theory and practice at the sickbed
