Click on 'Run Now' and select the tab that says 'Fission: One Nucleus'

Fission: One Nucleus:

Experiment with shooting the neutron gun and watch what happens.

What happens when the U-235 nucleus is "hit" with a neutron? There are a number of things that happen here, describe all of them in as much detail as you can. Use the pause button when needed. By the time that the U-235 nucleus is hit with a neutron, it automatically adds a neutron to the nucleus and it becomes U-236. The nucleus gains energy and shakes before the nucleus splits into two daughter nuclei and goes to different directions opposite from each other. In the process of splitting up, three neutrons separate from the two groups of daughter nuclei and go different ways.

Chain Reaction:

Select the "Chain Reaction" tab at the top. Experiment with changing the settings and shooting the neutron gun and watch what happens. Then answer the questions below.

- 1) Click the 'Reset All' button and then set the initial number of U-235 nuclei to 100 and U-238 to 0. What happens when you fire the neutron gun?

When the neutron gun was fired, the very first nucleus that was hit by the neutron immediately split into two, similar to the one nucleus test, three neutrons separated themselves from the group and started the chain reaction by hitting the other nucleus.

- 2) Explain what makes this a "chain reaction".

This is a chain reaction because the events happened one after another. When the first neutron hit the nucleus, it created a reaction that released three more neutrons from the nucleus, this three neutrons hit other nucleus to repeat the cycle until there are no more nucleus left.

- 3) Click 'Reset' and then set the initial number of U-238 nuclei to 100 and U-235 to 0. Explain what happens when you fire the gun. Does this cause a chain reaction? Try multiple times to start a chain reaction with the U-238. Explain why this happens.

Hitting U-238 with a neutron does not cause any chain reactions. It is because U-238 is not fissionable unlike U-235 which is fissionable and causes chain reactions. There is also no neutrons released to start a chain reaction.

What is U-238? In what ways is it different from U-235?

U-238 is an isotope of uranium. It has one more neutron in the nucleus than U-235.

- 4) Set the initial numbers of U-235 nuclei and U-238 nuclei to the numbers in the table below. Record your results.

U-235 U-238	100 0	75 25	50 50	25 75	0 100
% of 1% neutrons after 1 firing & neutrons required to create all 1%	99%	97.14%	64%	6.67%	0
