River Flow 2016 George

Constantinescu, Marcelo Garcia, Dan Hanes, 2016-06-22 Understanding and being able to predict fluvial processes is one of the biggest challenges for hydraulics and environmental engineers hydrologists and other scientists interested in preserving and restoring the diverse functions of rivers The interactions among flow turbulence vegetation macroinvertebrates and other organisms as well as the transport and retention of particulate matter have important consequences on the ecological health of rivers Managing rivers in an ecologically friendly way is a major component of sustainable engineering design maintenance and restoration of ecological habitats To address these challenges a major focus of River Flow 2016 was to highlight the latest advances in experimental computational and theoretical approaches that can be used to deepen our understanding and capacity to predict flow and the associated fluid driven ecological processes anthropogenic influences sediment transport and morphodynamic processes River Flow 2016 was organized under the auspices of the Committee for Fluvial Hydraulics of the International Association for Hydro Environment Engineering and Research IAHR Since its first edition in 2002 the River Flow conference series has become the main international event focusing on river hydrodynamics sediment transport river engineering and restoration Some of the highlights of the 8th International Conference on Fluvial Hydraulics were to focus on inter disciplinary research involving among others ecological and biological aspects relevant to river flows and processes and to emphasize broader themes dealing with river sustainability River Flow 2016 contains the contributions presented during the regular sessions covering the main conference themes and the special sessions focusing on specific hot topics of river flow research and will be of interest to academics interested in hydraulics hydrology and environmental engineering The Geography of Greece Régis Darques, George Sidiropoulos, Kostas Kalabokidis, 2024-02-22

During the last few years Greece has become a subject of increasing attention worldwide Once praised for its ability to innovate and reform during the EU integration process applauded for its remarkable job in managing the 2004 Olympics the country fell into a financial crisis of unprecedented magnitude in 2008 Much has been said on this matter and amid the morass of information a staggering number of untruths have been disseminated In fact the challenges of vulnerability and the paradigms of adaptation go way beyond finance and economy in Greece Mega fires earthquakes landslides and floods migrations sociopolitical upheavals and armed conflicts generate emergency situations repeatedly Because of its bridging role between natural and social sciences geography can provide insights into the entire breadth of hazardous and chaotic events driving adaptation and change Against all these threats Greece has developed an enhanced resilience capacity The purpose of this book is to help unravel the complexities of a fascinating country beyond clichés This book is intended for students researchers scholars and engineers interested in geography land planning urban studies and environmental management The crises issue intended as a guideline allows widening the audience to include the media governmental and non governmental agencies and the public at large The Trinity Is the Matrix Gary D. Combs, 2021-04-12 Solved are two great mysteries science's search to understand the grand unified theory of everything and Christianity's search to understand the Lord's omnipresent nature both of which are the exact same thing only clothed in different terminology. Thus making the Big Bang Theory and the Theory of Evolution both Biblical principles as first recorded in the Genesis account of creation written by Moses some 3 500 years ago.

Shadow Education and the Curriculum and Culture of Schooling in South Korea Young Chun Kim, 2016-09-23 This book enables Western scholars and educators to recognize the roles and contributions of shadow education (hakwon education) in an international context. The book allows readers to redefine the traditional and limited understanding of the background success behind Korean schooling and to expand their perspectives on Korean hakwon education as well as shadow education in other nations with educational power such as Japan, China, Singapore and Taiwan. Kim exhorts readers and researchers to examine shadow education as an emerging research inquiry in the context of postcolonial and worldwide curriculum studies.

Self-Directed Learning Elsa Mentz, Dorothy Laubscher, Jako Olivier, 2021-12-31 This book on self-directed learning (SDL) is devoted to original academic scholarship within the field of education and is the 6th volume in the North West University (NWU) SDL book series. In this book, the authors explore how self-directed learning can be considered an imperative for education in a complex modern society. Although each chapter represents independent research in the field of self-directed learning, the chapters form a coherent contribution concerning the scholarship of self-directed learning and specifically the effect of environmental and praxis contexts on the enhancement of self-directed learning in a complex society. The publication as a whole provides diverse perspectives on the importance of self-directed learning in varied contexts. Scholars working in a wide range of fields are drawn together in this scholarly work to present a comprehensive dialogue regarding self-directed learning and how this concept functions in a complex and dynamic higher education context. This book presents a combination of theory and practice which reflects selected conceptual dimensions of self-directed learning in society as well as research-based findings pertaining to current topical issues relating to implementing self-directed learning in the modern world. The varied methodologies provide the reader with different and balanced perspectives as well as varied and innovative ideas on how to conduct research in the field of self-directed learning.
