The Practice of Enterprise Modeling Patrick van Bommel, Stijn Hoppenbrouwers, Sietse Overbeek, Joseph Barjis, 2010-10-29 This volume constitutes the proceedings of the Third IFIP WG 8.1 Working Conference on the Practice of Enterprise Modeling held in Delft The Netherlands during November 9-10 2010 The goal of the conference is both to foster a better understanding of the practice of enterprise modeling and to improve its theoretical foundations The 17 papers presented were carefully reviewed and selected from 44 submissions They reflect the trend for both practitioners and academics to look into domains and conceptualizations addressing dedicated business oriented topics like business intelligence or domain driven process families and thus reach beyond traditional information systems engineering

Supporting Individuals Who Use Augmentative and Alternative Communication Eric J. Sanders,2022-12-02 Individuals with complex communication needs who use Augmentative and Alternative Communication AAC frequently encounter barriers that limit their ability to achieve their full potential in communication and in life These barriers include access barriers limitations in the current capabilities of the AAC user or the communication systems that they use as well as opportunity barriers e g policy practice knowledge skill and attitude barriers that extend beyond the AAC user It is essential to consider both access and opportunity barriers when designing systems and supports for individuals who use AAC However often the emphasis of research and practice is on addressing issues related to access barriers with far less attention to opportunity barriers

Supporting Individuals Who Use Augmentative and Alternative Communication Breaking Down Opportunity Barriers is the first book to focus specifically on practical strategies for breaking down opportunity barriers experienced by individuals who use AAC The text is divided into four sections with each section devoted to a frequently encountered opportunity barrier knowledge skill practice attitude and policy Within each section readers will a develop a deeper understanding of the impact of the barrier through the eyes of individuals who use AAC or their families b acquire knowledge based on current research and recommended practices related to addressing the barrier and c learn how professionals have successfully addressed the barrier via case examples from the field The final chapter provides readers with information as well as tools and examples about how to go beyond the book and actively address the unique opportunity barriers they encounter

Key Features Includes in depth interviews with individuals who use AAC and their families Identifies evidence based and promising practices for addressing opportunity barriers Provides tips tools and resources for addressing opportunity barriers Illustrates successful strategies for addressing opportunity barriers through case examples and step by step guidelines for implementation Includes contributions from professionals in the field who have successfully addressed opportunity barriers in home school workplace and community settings

Who Should Read This Book This book is designed to support those who find themselves frustrated by the opportunity barriers experienced by individuals who use AAC and are searching for ways to break down those barriers including people who rely on AAC speech language pathologists special education teachers occupational therapists physical therapists family members university students faculty in higher education and other professionals in school healthcare and community settings

Project Politics Dr Nita A Martin,2012-09-28 The ability of individuals to work together to facilitate the delivery of a project can be a major factor in determining its success By misinterpreting or even missing the signs of underlying political issues a project manager will struggle to deliver projects successfully

Project Politics provides a framework for solving political concerns through the effective management of complex relationships Nita Martin's structured approach will raise awareness and improve your ability to manage issues in the workplace She shows that once you recognize the problems and take politics in your stride you can successfully manage such environments The first part of Project Politics presents theoretical concepts of human behaviour as a basis for structuring observations and understanding why people behave the way they do The second follows the familiar project life cycle Each project stage is considered in turn and numerous case studies are presented with analyses that draw upon the concepts presented in Part I Nita Martin uses psychology influence behaviour and communication models gives guidance on putting theory into practice and points out typical political situations throughout For all management professionals who recognize the importance of politics in the workplace and wish to be armed with the tools to make a difference Project Politics will provide the foundation
