Innovative Methods of Teaching and Learning Chemistry in Higher Education Ingo Eilks,Bill Byers,2015-11-06 Two recent initiatives from the EU namely the Bologna Process and the Lisbon Agenda are likely to have a major influence on European Higher Education It seems unlikely that traditional teaching approaches which supported the elitist system of the past will promote the mobility widened participation and culture of life long learning that will provide the foundations for a future knowledge based economy There is therefore a clear need to seek new approaches to support the changes which will inevitably occur The European Chemistry Thematic Network ECTN is a network of some 160 university chemistry departments from throughout the EU as well as a number of National Chemical Societies including the RSC which provides a discussion forum for all aspects of higher education in chemistry This handbook is a result of one of their working groups who identified and collated good practice with respect to innovative methods in Higher Level Chemistry Education It provides a comprehensive overview of innovations in university chemistry teaching from a broad European perspective The generation of this book through a European Network with major national chemical societies and a large number of chemistry departments as members make the book unique The wide variety of scholars who have contributed to the book make it interesting and invaluable reading for both new and experienced chemistry lecturers throughout the EU and beyond The book is aimed at chemistry education at universities and other higher level institutions and at all academic staff and anyone interested in the teaching of chemistry at the tertiary level Although newly appointed teaching staff are a clear target for the book the innovative aspects of the topics covered are likely to prove interesting to all committed chemistry lecturers Just in Time Teaching Scott Simkins,Mark Maier,2023-07-03 Just in Time Teaching JiTT is a pedagogical approach that requires students to answer questions related to an upcoming class a few hours beforehand using an online course management system While the phrase just in time may evoke shades of slap dash work and cut corners JiTT pedagogy is just the opposite It helps students to view learning as a process that takes time introspection and persistence Students who experience JiTT come to class better prepared and report that it helps to focus and organize their out of class studying Their responses to JiTT questions make gaps in their learning visible to the teacher prior to class enabling him or her to address learning gaps while the material is still fresh in students minds hence the label just in time JiTT questions differ from traditional homework problems in being designed not only to build cognitive skills but also to help students confront misconceptions make connections to previous knowledge and develop metacognitive thinking practices Students consequently spend more time on course concepts and ideas but also read their textbooks in ways that result in more effective and deeper learning Starting the class with students work also dramatically changes the classroom learning environment creating greater student engagement This book demonstrates that JiTT has broad appeal across the academy Part I provides a broad overview of JiTT

introducing the pedagogy and exploring various dimensions of its use without regard to discipline Part II of the book demonstrates JiTT's remarkable cross disciplinary impact with examples of applications in physics biology the geosciences economics history and the humanities Just in Time Teaching article from The Hispanic Outlook in Higher Education Reprinted with permission from Hispanic Outlook in Higher Education Magazine www.hispanicoutlook.com Physical Science
