Robot Manipulators Agustin Jimenez, Basil M. Al Hadithi, 2010-03-01

This book presents the most recent research advances in robot manipulators. It offers a complete survey to the kinematic and dynamic modelling, simulation, computer vision, software engineering, optimization and design of control algorithms applied for robotic systems. It is devoted for a large scale of applications such as manufacturing, manipulation, medicine and automation. Several control methods are included such as optimal, adaptive, robust, force, fuzzy and neural network control strategies. The trajectory planning is discussed in details for point to point and path motions control. The results obtained in this book are expected to be of great interest for researchers, engineers, scientists and students in engineering studies and industrial sectors related to robot modelling, design, control and application. The book also details theoretical, mathematical and practical requirements for mathematicians and control engineers. It surveys recent techniques in modelling, computer simulation and implementation of advanced and intelligent controllers. The Ten-year Book of Cornell University ... Cornell University, 1908

Applied Statistics for the Social and Health Sciences Rachel A. Gordon, 2012-07-26. Applied Statistics for the Social and Health Sciences provides graduate students in the social and health sciences with the basic skills that they need to estimate, interpret, present and publish statistical models using contemporary standards. The book targets the social and health science branches such as human development, public health, sociology, psychology, education and social work in which students bring a wide range of mathematical skills and have a wide range of methodological affinities. For these students a successful course in statistics will not only offer statistical content but will also help them develop an appreciation for how statistical techniques might answer some of the research questions of interest to them. This book is for use in a two semester graduate course sequence covering basic univariate and bivariate statistics and regression models for nominal and ordinal outcomes in addition to covering ordinary least squares regression. Key features of the book include interweaving the teaching of statistical concepts with examples developed for the course from publicly available social science data or drawn from the literature, thorough integration of teaching statistical theory with teaching data processing and analysis, teaching of both SAS and Stata side by side and use of chapter exercises in which students practice programming and interpretation on the same data set and course exercises in which students can choose their own research questions and data set. This book is for a two semester course. For a one semester course see <http://www.routledge.com/9780415991544>

Terror in Transition Tricia Bacon, Elizabeth Grimm, 2022-09-13. What is the role of founding leaders in shaping terrorist organizations? What follows the loss of this formative leader? These questions are especially important to religious terrorist groups in which leaders are particularly revered. Tricia L. Bacon and Elizabeth Grimm provide a groundbreaking analysis of how religious terrorist groups manage and adapt to major shifts in leadership. They demonstrate that founders create the base from which their successors operate. Founders establish and explain the group's mission and they determine and justify how it seeks to achieve its objectives. Bacon and Grimm argue that how successors position themselves in terms of the founder shapes a terrorist group's future course. They examine how and why different types of successors choose to pursue incremental or discontinuous change Bacon and Grimm emphasize that the instability surrounding succession can place a group at its most vulnerable the precise time to explore options to weaken or defeat it Bacon and Grimm highlight similarities between Islamic terrorist groups abroad and Christian white nationalist groups such as the 1920s Ku Klux Klan in the United States Drawing on extensive field research in Afghanistan Somalia and Pakistan Terror in Transition features detailed analysis of groups such as al Shabaab Egyptian Islamic Jihad and al Qaeda in Iraq the Islamic State in Iraq as well as the KKK Offering a rigorous theoretical perspective on terrorist leadership transition this policy relevant book provides actionable recommendations for counterterrorism practitioners Family Influence on
