Cincinnati Magazine, 2006-06 Cincinnati Magazine taps into the DNA of the city exploring shopping dining living and culture and giving readers a ringside seat on the issues shaping the region The Journal of Education Thomas Williams Bicknell, Albert Edward Winship, Anson Wood Belding, 1901 Colonial America and the Earl of Halifax, 1748-1761 Andrew David Michael Beaumont, 2015 Colonial America and the Early of Halifax examines the governance of British America in the period prior to the American Revolution Focusing upon the career of George Montagu Dunk Second Earl of Halifax and First Lord of the Board of Trade Plantations 1716-1771 it explores colonial planners and policy makers during the political hiatus between the age of Walpole and the subsequent age of imperial crisis As ambitious metropolitan politicians vied for ministerial dominance Halifax's board played a vital role in shaping British perceptions of its growing empire A repository of information and intelligence the board offered Halifax the opportunity to establish his own niche interest for the good of the empire and himself alike Challenging the view that Britain's attitude towards its American colonies was one of ignorance compounded by complacency this study explores those charged directly with governing America from the imperial centre to its westward peripheries the governors entrusted with maintaining the royal prerogative and implementing reform Between 1748 and 1761 Halifax sought to reform the America from a motley assortment of territories into an ordered uniform asset of the imperial nation state Exploring the governors themselves reveals a complex modern network of professional and personal loyalties bound together through mutual self interest under Halifax s leadership Confronted by the Seven Years War Halifax saw his plans and followers dissipate in the face of global conflict the results of which established British America and also sowed the seeds of its eventual destruction in 1776 Long overshadowed by the acknowledged great men of his age this study restores Halifax and his interest to its rightful place as a significant influence upon major historical events illustrating his grand elaborate vision for an alternative British America that never was Companions Without Vows Betty Rizzo,2008-09-01 Companions Without Vows is the first detailed study of the companionate relationship among women in eighteenth century England a type of relationship so prevalent that it was nearly institutionalized Drawing extensively upon primary documents and fictional narratives Betty Rizzo describes the socioeconomic conditions that forced women to take on or to become companions and examines a number of actual companionate relationships Several factors fostered such relationships Husbands and wives of the period lived largely separate social lives yet decorum prohibited genteel women from attending engagements unaccompanied Also women of position insisted on having social consultants and confidantes Filling this need were the many well born young women without sufficient funds to live independently Because family money and property were concentrated in the hands of eldest sons these women frequently had to seek the protection of female benefactors for whom they performed unpaid nonmenial tasks such as providing a hand at cards or simply offering pleasant company The companionate relationship between women could assume many forms Rizzo notes It was often analogous to marriage with one partner dominant and the other subservient while some women experimented in establishing partnerships that were truly egalitarian Rizzo explores these various types of relationships both in real life and in fiction noting that much of the period s discourse about women s relationships can be seen as a tacit commentary on marriage Provocative and engagingly written this authoritative work casts new light on women s attempts to deal with a patriarchal power structure and offers new insight into eighteenth century social history Bulletin Enoch Pratt Free Library of Baltimore City,1895
