

Teaching is part of a life-long learning process. For effective teaching, teachers must be good learners. This certificate program in college teaching provided me with many opportunities to think about my teaching career. In this section of my teaching ePortfolio, I will answer several questions regarding teaching, ePortfolio, and the certificate program.

What was the most striking or surprising thing you learned about yourself and about teaching as you developed your ePortfolio?

Through the ePortfolio development process, I realized that teaching is one of the most difficult activities I will perform in my life. Knowing or understanding subjects does not necessarily mean I will be able to teach the subjects well. To enhance students' learning, I must create an appropriate learning environment through various teaching strategies and presentation methods. There is no single best solution; I should continuously try new things and improve my teaching skills.

Based on the materials you wrote, what will be your greatest strength as a teacher?

As I discussed in my teaching philosophy statement, I believe in the importance of repeated exposure to a subject. For "repeated exposure," I should prepare well-organized class materials so students can recall previously taught materials easily. My greatest strength as a teacher is my organization skill. I will prepare very organized lesson plans and slides for my classes.

In addition, I always like to explore new subjects – I am very flexible and will change my lesson plans if needed. I will continuously revise my teaching materials. This way, I can provide the most recent, updated information to students.

What will be your greatest challenge as a teacher?

Increasing students' engagement is the greatest challenge as a teacher, especially in the basic lower-level courses. Many students may take such basic introductory courses without strong motivation. As a student, grades are important, of course; however, I want to teach students that applying (or at least recalling) what they learned in their classes, even after college, is much more important than just focusing on class grades.

In addition, balancing between "be strict" and "be flexible" is also a great challenge for me. I want students to follow my policy, such as late work policy. However, I want to be flexible to meet students' needs and interests. Being too strict may damage students' interest and participation in the class, but being too flexible can also hurt students' engagement in the class. I should improve my teaching method to create a good teaching and learning environment.

How did the combination of workshops, experimental learning, assignment development, syllabi construction, and lesson plan creation lead to new understanding about teaching?

The combination of teaching workshops, teaching classes, class material development, and actual teaching provided a great opportunity to enhance my teaching skills. I was able to learn basic teaching principles from teaching classes, apply teaching principles in class material development and actual teaching, and learn new teaching methods and issues from teaching

Sample Education Course Reflection Paper:

The Course Reflection Project Nicole Schonemann, Emily Metzgar, Andrew Libby, 2015-05-01 Service learning is entering a post initiatory phase At tertiary institutions of all types and sizes service learning programs are common and service learning requirements for graduation are growing in popularity Taken together alongside continued faculty interest in effective teaching these factors have raised the visibility and popularity of service learning Now the greater need in service learning is not to prove the need for or efficacy of service learning but to turn the focus squarely back on practice Following established best practice is not enough instructors also need to reflect on how this fits within the specific context and application of each unique course and service learning partnership While there are many excellent resources that detail best practice and showcase exemplary service learning courses faculty reflection and course revision often goes unmentioned In response to the lack of attention on the role of reflection and course revision we convened groups of faculty from a variety of disciplines to reflect deeply on their courses paying specific attention to obstacles and challenges These conversations were converted to articles for this edited collection each chapter representing the process of reflection and revision and serving as a guide to develop effective practice in varied curricular contexts This text contributes to the body of literature on service learning in a unique and practical manner Faculty teaching or interested in teaching service learning classes would benefit from this text as well as university administrators and community service directors involved in service learning at a programmatic and institutional level This book should be marketed to faculty teaching disciplinary service learning classes and service learning pedagogy classes and administrative offices involved in service learning This could be a supplementary text for graduate level pedagogy courses Higher education institutional libraries would benefit from this text as well as the national and state campus compact offices

Developing Reflective TESOL Practitioners Through Teacher Education
Andrzej Cirocki, Mark Wyatt, Xuesong (Andy) Gao, 2024-06-26 This textbook provides insights from Asian contexts into how reflective practice is nurtured on Teaching English to Speakers of Other Languages TESOL and English Language Teaching ELT teacher education programmes There is increasing recognition worldwide that given the centrality of reflective practice to teachers ongoing professional development supporting teachers to become reflective practitioners should be integral to teacher education programmes Consequently tertiary level courses in areas such as TESOL and ELT tend to promote reflective practice supported by theoretical input from the burgeoning literature on reflection much of which is produced in the West Relatively under represented in the literature are global perspectives on reflective practice there are consequently relatively few accounts as to how reflective practice is embedded in teacher education programmes in different parts of the world including Asia Hence this book addresses a gap Contributing authors from fourteen countries provide insights into the ways in which teachers are helped to grow as reflective practitioners on their teacher education programmes in their unique contexts This textbook showcases how reflective teaching practices are developed supported by frameworks for critical reflection and in interaction with local educational policies These distinctive accounts aid readers in reflecting on the ways in which reflective practice is supported in their own teacher education contexts and in considering ways of enhancing the reflective dimension of their programmes This textbook showcases innovative reflective activities and can be used as a principal text or as supplemental reading on a range of TESOL and ELT teacher education courses Teaching and Learning in a Concept-Based Nursing Curriculum Ignatavicius, Donna D.
