The Civil Rights Movement

The Civil Rights Movement is known as a period of time in the 1950s and 1960s that really began about 100 years earlier, after the American Civil War. The Civil Rights Movement occurred because of the desire for racial equality after the end of slavery in America.

After the Civil War, the American South was a very racist place. There were many segregation laws, which meant people were kept separate. There were segregation laws for schools and where people could sit on a bus or in a restaurant. There were laws that said that people could not marry a person of a different race.

One of the first things that happened was that people started to go to school with people of a different race. This was called desegregation. It was a big step towards equality.

There were many other things that happened during the Civil Rights Movement, like the March on Washington and the Selma to Montgomery march. These were all important events in the fight for equality.

Ruby Bridges

MOVIE STUDY GUIDE

When a single day of school and the world had to change, what did Ruby Bridges have to do? She had to be brave and stand up for what was right. She had to be a leader and show the way for other children.

As an adult, Ruby continued to be a leader and a role model for other children. She was a brave and strong woman who stood up for what was right. She was a true hero.
