Biological terms: Interphase, Anaphase, Metaphase, Telophase, Collenchyma, phloem, Sclerenchyma, Parenchyma, cuticula, Transpirations, stomata, neuron, organic compound, connective tissue, chromatin, chromosome, foramen magnum, axial skeleton, cranium
Chemistry of life	Cells
Difference between organic and inorganic compounds	Difference between animal cell and plant cell
Examples of organic and inorganic compounds	All the cell organelles and functions/rolls
Monomers of all organic compound	Describe the build of the nucleus, mitochondria, and chloroplast
Elements of all the organic compounds	Investigation: Osmose and diffusion (Look at the apparatus that we use and how to set up this Investigation)
Vitamins A, B, C, D, and E, and there deficiency diseases they can cause	Explain osmose and diffusion
Enzymes
- Lock and key model
- Function of enzymes
Influence of temperature and pH on enzyme action
Mitosis	Plant tissue
All the phases can identify and give reasons for your answers	Build and function of: Collenchyma, Sclerenchyma, Parenchyma, Phloem, Xylem and stomata
Product of Mitosis	Definition of tissue
Difference between telophase in plant cells and animal cells
Biological importance of Mitosis
Cancer: - Uncontrolled cell division and growth: Causes and treatment of cancer Function and build of: Stomata, Xylem, and root hair
	Adaptions of Xylem for movement of water upwards
Animal tissue	Plant organs
Name and identify all the animal tissues and where in the human body are they located.	The labels and functions of the dorsiventral leaf.
	Adaptions of the different parts of the leaf
Functions of all the animal tissues	Definition of an organ
Name all the connective tissues
Support and transport in plants	Support in animals
Labels of dicotyledonous stem and root	All the labels of the skeleton
Difference between a dicotyledons root and stem	Where do we find long bones in the skeleton
	Function of the skeleton
Investigation: The rate of transpirations (Potometer)
The effect of environmental factors on transpiration (Wind, Temperature and Light.)

Scope Of Life Science November 2014:

Towards an embodied science of intersubjectivity: Widening the scope of social understanding research

Ezequiel Di Paolo, Hanne De Jaegher, 2015-06-16 An important amount of research effort in psychology and neuroscience over the past decades has focused on the problem of social cognition. This problem is understood as how we figure out other minds relying only on indirect manifestations of other people's intentional states which are assumed to be hidden, private and internal. Research on this question has mostly investigated how individual cognitive mechanisms achieve this task. A shift in the internalist assumptions regarding intentional states has expanded the research focus with hypotheses that explore the role of interactive phenomena and interpersonal histories and their implications for understanding individual cognitive processes. This interactive expansion of the conceptual and methodological toolkit for investigating social cognition we now propose can be followed by an expansion into wider and deeply related research questions beyond but including that of social cognition narrowly construed. Our social lives are populated by different kinds of cognitive and affective phenomena that are related to but not exhausted by the question of how we figure out other minds. These phenomena include acting and perceiving together, verbal and non-verbal engagement, experiences of disconnection, management of relations in a group, joint meaning making, intimacy, trust, conflict, negotiation, asymmetric relations, material mediation of social interaction, collective action, contextual engagement with socio-cultural norms, structures and roles etc. These phenomena are often characterized by a strong participation by the cognitive agent in contrast with the spectatorial stance typical of social cognition research. We use the broader notion of embodied intersubjectivity to refer to this wider set of phenomena. This Research Topic aims to investigate relations between these different issues to help lay strong foundations for a science of intersubjectivity, the social mind writ large. To contribute to this goal we encouraged contributions in psychology, neuroscience, psychopathology, philosophy and cognitive science that address this wider scope of intersubjectivity by extending the range of explanatory factors from purely individual to interactive, from observational to participatory. The Global Practice of Forensic Science Douglas H. Ubelaker, 2015-02-16 The Global Practice of Forensic Science presents histories, issues, patterns and diversity in the applications of international forensic science. Written by 64 experienced and internationally recognized forensic scientists, the volume documents the practice of forensic science in 28 countries from Africa, the Americas, Asia, Australia and Europe. Each country's chapter explores factors of political history, academic linkages, the influence of individual cases, facility development, types of cases examined, integration within forensic science, recruitment, training, funding, certification, accreditation, quality control, technology, disaster preparedness, legal issues, research and future directions. Aimed at all scholars interested in international forensic science, the volume provides detail on the diverse fields within forensic science and their applications around the world. Appropriations for 2016 United States. Congress. House. Committee on Appropriations. Subcommittee on Energy and Water Development,2015 Science and Religion Yves Gingras,2017-06-16 Today we hear renewed calls for a dialogue between science and religion why has the old question of the relations between science and religion now returned to the public domain and what is at stake in this debate To answer these questions historian and sociologist of science Yves Gingras retraces the long history of the troubled relationship between science and religion from the condemnation of Galileo for heresy in 1633 until his rehabilitation by John Paul II in 1992. He reconstructs the process of the gradual separation of science from theology and religion showing how God and natural theology became marginalized in the scientific field in the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries. In contrast to the dominant trend among historians of science, Gingras argues that science and religion are social institutions that give rise to incompatible ways of knowing rooted in different methodologies and forms of knowledge and that there never was and cannot be a genuine dialogue between them. Wide ranging and authoritative, this new book on one of the fundamental questions of Western thought will be of great interest to students and scholars of the history of science and of religion as well as to general readers who are intrigued by the new and much publicized conversations about the alleged links between science and religion.

Life, Re-Scaled Liliane Campos, Pierre-Louis Patoine, 2022-10-11. This edited volume explores new engagements with the life sciences in contemporary fiction, poetry, comics, and performance. The gathered case studies investigate how recent creative work reframes the human within microscopic or macroscopic scales from cellular biology to systems ecology and engages with the ethical, philosophical, and political issues raised by the twenty-first century's shifting views of life. The collection thus examines literature and performance as spaces that shape our contemporary biological imagination. Comprised of thirteen chapters by an international group of academics, Life Re-Scaled: The Biological Imagination in Twenty-First Century Literature and Performance engages with four main areas of biological study: Invisible scales, cells, microbes, and mycelium; Neuro medical imaging and diagnosis; Pandemic imaginaries; and Ecological scales. The authors examine these concepts in emerging forms such as plant theatre, climate change art, ecofiction, and pandemic fiction, including the work of Jeff Vandermeer, Jon McGregor, Jeff Lemire, and Extinction Rebellion's Red Rebel Brigade performances. This valuable resource moves beyond the biological paradigms that were central to the nineteenth and twentieth centuries to outline the specificity of a contemporary imagination. Life Re-Scaled is crucial reading for academics, scholars, and authors alike as it proposes an unprecedented overview of the relationship between literature, performance, and the life sciences in the twenty-first century.

International GAAP 2017 Ernst & Young LLP, 2017-02-16. IFRSs, the standards set by the International Accounting Standards Board (IASB), are complex and sometimes obscure. Understanding their implications and applying them appropriately requires something special, and that is why International GAAP 2017 is the essential tool for anyone applying, auditing, interpreting, regulating, studying, and teaching international financial reporting. It provides expert interpretation and practical guidance for busy professionals and includes in every chapter detailed analysis of how complex financial reporting problems can be resolved appropriately and effectively. The International Financial Reporting Group of Ernst & Young provides an explanation of relevant principles, a clear exposition of the requirements of IFRS, a discussion of the implications in practice and possible alternative solutions, available worked examples, extracts from real company accounts, and a full listing of the required disclosures.

an important part to play in the process of promoting consistent comparable and high quality financial reporting under IFRS a book that not only provides an analysis of the requirements of the standards and the principles that they expound but also presents a unique explanation of how the standards should be interpreted and applied in practice the Chairman of Trustees of the IASC Foundation A standard reference work Financial Times The definitive guide to financial reporting The Times

CRITICAL ESSAYS ON POSTMODERNISM Godfrey O. Ozumba, Patrick J. Mendie, Michael Ukah & Christopher A. Udofia (Edited), 2017 The aim of this book is to tell a fuller story of postmodernism as applied to philosophy and a few other related disciplines The book considers postmodernism from different angles Apart from examining the nexus between postmodernism and different branches of philosophy The ideas of leading postmodern thinkers we critically discussed In an age where students find it very difficult to buy relevant books this book is a handy reference material because it covers the very essential areas of postmodernism I must commend the Editors of the book for their editorial astuteness and all the contributors for exhibiting a wonderful and overwhelming enlightenment for philosophy students and students of related disciplines I strongly recommend the book for these and enlightened readers who seek a deeper knowledge of the subject

The Innate Immune System Tom Monie, 2017-02-16 The Innate Immune System A Compositional and Functional Perspective focuses on the components and functionality of the innate immune system detailing how they work in their own right and then progressing to cover their relevance to disease and how they interface with the adaptive response Despite the growing appreciation of the importance of the innate immune system many classical immunology books still focus predominantly on the adaptive immune response Not only is this unbalanced but it fails to reflect the growing synergy between the activation and function of the innate response and the final nature of adaptive response This book fills the gap in knowledge that is needed to fully understand and appreciate the topic Provides a clear but simple picture of the main principle of innate immunity and the interlink with adaptive responses Fulfills an unmet need in the area of innate immunity Gives a constructive and progressive approach to introducing and explaining the key players in the innate immune response Introduces and explains the key players in the innate immune response with a constructive and progressive approach Presents the components of the innate response and shows how these interrelated areas connect with one another from a functional perspective Enables the reader to gradually increase their level of understanding and knowledge without the risk of becoming confused thereby ensuring they fully comprehend the integrated signaling pathways

The Interplay Between Competition Law and Intellectual Property Gabriella Muscolo, Marina Tavassi, 2019-01-17 Although competition law and intellectual property are often interwoven until this book there has been little guidance on how they work together in practice As the intersection between the two fields continues to grow worldwide both in case law and in regulation the book's markets based approach focusing on sectors such as pharmaceuticals IT telecoms energy and agriculture in eleven of the world's most active jurisdictions provides a much needed in depth understanding of how this interplay reveals itself among the different legal systems Written by a range of authors including judges regulators academics economists and practitioners in both fields the book provides an international comparative perspective as well as detailed analysis of specific cases policies and proposals for change Among the issues and topics covered are the following free movement of goods and the protection of intellectual property rights standard essential patents intellectual property rights between technological development and consumer protection geo blocking online platforms and antitrust excessive prices In this context special attention is paid throughout to the increasing dialogue among Competition Authorities and between Judges and Competition Authorities around the world As matchless remedy for the lack of uniformity heretofore the book s investigation of the nexus between competition law and intellectual property in different sectors and in various countries takes a giant step towards a more balanced approach and more levelled regulation and practices It will be warmly appreciated by policy makers decision makers regulators practitioners and academics in both competition law and intellectual property fields COMPLETE
