Children's Prayer Vivienne Mountain,2016-04-11 This book provides strong arguments for giving prayer a central place in the education and nurture of children It is based on research in Australian Catholic parent controlled Christian Independent Jewish Muslim and government schools The author demonstrates focused attention and care in the data collection from the words of children and their drawings of people praying She takes us through her thorough processes of analysis and synthesis The research shows that prayer is valued by all children whether they come from a religious background or not For some children it is a way of associating with their communities and traditions of faith For others prayer is practised in an individualistic manner Prayer is a way to perceive and respond to the experiences of life It can help in dealing with the challenging emotional states of anxiety loneliness fear anger and guilt It can give hope for the future It provides a way of seeking help for others as well as expressing praise and thanksgiving Vivienne Mountain has a background in teaching and in clinical counselling She lectures in Spirituality and Ministry with Children at Stirling Theological College University of Divinity Australia She has published three books as well as contributing chapters to a number of others and articles for national and international journals Religion L. M. Barley, C. D. Field, B. A. Kosmin, J. S. Nielsen, 1987-05-22 This volume reviews the publicly available sources of statistical information on religion The majority of this data relates to the Christian churches and is split between the serial or recurrent sources in the first review and the ad hoc survey data in the second The third sets out the available Jewish data which comprise the best recorded and the most extensive of the sources in the non Christian sector and the final review brings together statistical sources on the remaining religions practised in the UK This book will be an invaluable source of information for researchers and practitioners in the field Religious Education, 1929 Available on microfilm from University Microfilms Teach Us to Pray Raymond Howard Huse, 1919 The Sunday School Movement in Britain 1900-1939 Caitriona McCartney, 2023 Demonstrates the vital role Sunday schools played in forming and sustaining faith before during and after the First World War for British populations both at home and abroad Sunday schools were an important part of the religious landscape of twentieth century Britain and they were widely attended by much of the British population The Sunday School Movement in Britain argues that the schools played a vital role in forming and sustaining the faith of those who lived and served during the First World War Moreover the volume contends that the conflict did not cause the schools to decline and proposes that decline instead set in much earlier in the twentieth century The book also questions the perception that the schools were ineffective tools of religious socialisation and examines the continued attempts of the Sunday school movement to professionalise and improve their efforts Thus the involvement of the movement with the World s Sunday School Association is revealed to be part of the wider developing international ecumenical community during the twentieth century Drawing together under utilised material from archives and newspapers in national and local collections The Sunday School Movement in Britain presents a history of the schools demonstrating their lasting significance in the religious life of the nation and by extension the enduring importance of Christianity in Britain during the first half of the twentieth century
