

8th Grade Research Project

Welcome to the wonderful world of research! In addition to being a Casey tradition for more than 16 years, this project will be a challenging, stimulating and rewarding experience for you as it prepares you for the level and quality of work expected at the high school level. Therefore, please follow all directions very carefully, stay on target, and do your absolute best work.

You will have time to write a paper, develop your oral presentation, and create a museum exhibit in your US Society class, English Language Arts/ELD class and Spanish Language Arts. You will also need to work nightly on this project in order to meet all due dates, so plan and budget your time well. You will be assigned a research mentor who will provide you with additional support throughout the research process.

Paper

- You will choose from a variety of topics from US history.
- You must analyze the topic, place it in its historical context, and explain its impact on US history.
- You will need a minimum of six (6) primary and secondary sources for your paper: at least two books (or e-books), two Internet sources, and two periodicals or other sources.
- Your paper will be a minimum of 1600 words (app. 5 -7 typed pages) and will include a works cited page. (The works cited page does not count towards your word/page count.)
- Parenthetical (internal) citations are required for this paper. You will receive explicit guidelines on how to use parenthetical references (internal citations) and how to write a proper works cited page that includes each type of source used.
- Your paper should be created on Google drive and shared with your mentor.
Name it - your first & last name, research paper topic
For example: Jennifer Lawrence, Hunger in America
- When you print your paper, use all standard conventions for a high school/college quality research paper (MLA format). Specific requirements for MLA format can be found on the back of this page.

Oral Presentation

- The oral presentation will be a 5-7 minute summary of your research using your slideshow and museum exhibit for support. You will choose a specific class in which to present your research. Presentations will be given in the same language as the paper.
- Your presentation will include a slide show of 6-10 slides with no more than 140 total words. The first slide should contain your title and thesis statement, and the rest must include main ideas that support your thesis statement.

Museum Exhibit

- You will also create a museum exhibit to accompany this paper. This portion of your project is fairly open-ended and allows you to showcase your creative side. Your visual teaching tool should be completely related to your research. Science boards, dioramas, models, pop-up books, time capsules are examples of museum exhibits you may create to enhance your presentation. You will receive more details – and see some examples from last year – as we go along.

Points

- You will receive the same grade for US Society and Language Arts Classes

Process and Participation	120 points
First Draft	50 points
Second Draft	40 points
Final Draft	100 points
Oral Presentation and Museum Exhibit	100 points
Total Points Possible For 8th Grade Project	410 points

Questions For A Research Paper Grade Eight Students

Questions For A Research Paper Grade Eight Students:

Student Misconceptions and Errors in Physics and Mathematics Teresa Neidorf, Alka Arora, Ebru Erberber, Yemurai Tsokodayi, Thanh Mai, 2019-10-30 This open access report explores the nature and extent of students' misconceptions and misunderstandings related to core concepts in physics and mathematics and physics across grades four, eight and 12. Twenty years of data from the IEA's Trends in International Mathematics and Science Study (TIMSS) and TIMSS Advanced assessments are analyzed specifically for five countries: Italy, Norway, Russian Federation, Slovenia, and the United States, who participated in all or almost all TIMSS and TIMSS Advanced assessments between 1995 and 2015. The report focuses on students' understandings related to gravitational force in physics and linear equations in mathematics. It identifies some specific misconceptions, errors, and misunderstandings demonstrated by the TIMSS Advanced grade 12 students for these core concepts and shows how these can be traced back to poor foundational development of these concepts in earlier grades. Patterns in misconceptions and misunderstandings are reported by grade, country, and gender. In addition, specific misconceptions and misunderstandings are tracked over time using trend items administered in multiple assessment cycles. The study and associated methodology may enable education systems to help identify specific needs in the curriculum, improve instruction across grades, and also raise possibilities for future TIMSS assessment design and reporting that may provide more diagnostic outcomes.

Virtualosity: Eight Students in Search of Cyberlaw Nicholas Johnson and Others, 2009 Nicholas Johnson and eight law students in the University of Iowa Cyberspace Law Seminar, Spring 2009, investigate everything from property rights in virtual worlds to domestic cyber attacks to K-12 students' rights with their online/off-campus speech.

Research in Education, 1972 Resources in Education, 2001-04 Motivational Profiles in TIMSS Mathematics Michalis P. Michaelides, Gavin T. L. Brown, Hanna Eklöf, Elena C. Papanastasiou, 2019-09-03 This open access book presents a person-centered exploration of student profiles using variables related to motivation to do school mathematics derived from the IEA's Trends in International Mathematics and Science Study (TIMSS) data. Statistical cluster analysis is used to identify groups of students with similar motivational profiles across grades and over time for multiple participating countries. While motivational variables systematically relate to school outcomes, linear relationships can obscure the diverse makeup of student subgroups, each with varying combinations of motivation, emotions, and attitudes. In this book, a person-centered analysis of distinct and meaningful motivational profiles and their differences on sociodemographic variables and mathematics performance broadens understanding about the role that motivation characteristics play in learning and achievement in mathematics. Exploiting the richness of IEA's TIMSS data from many countries, extracted clusters reveal consistent as well as certain nuanced patterns that are systematically linked to sociodemographic and achievement measures. Student clusters with inconsistent motivational profiles were found in all countries; mathematics self-confidence then emerged as the variable more closely associated with average achievement. The findings demonstrate that teachers researchers and policymakers need to take into account differential student profiles prioritizing techniques that target skill and competence in mathematics in educational efforts to develop student motivation

Wheeler,Isaac Kaufman Funk,William Seaver Woods,1909 The Truth About Homework From the Students'

Perspective Gladys R. Landing-Corretjer, Ed.D,2015-09-30 Have you ever wonder why students complain about homework In The Truth About Homework From The Students Perspective you will Learn the truth about what students think about homework Motivate students to complete and turn in their homework Reflect on your teaching practices regarding homework Take action by creating assignments that would increase homework completion and student learning Be surprised about students responses Gender Differences in Computer and Information Literacy Eveline Gebhardt,Sue Thomson,John Ainley,Kylie Hillman,2019-09-13 This open access book presents a systematic investigation into internationally comparable data gathered in ICILS 2013 It identifies differences in female and male students use of perceptions about and proficiency in using computer technologies Teachers use of computers and their perceptions regarding the benefits of computer use in education are also analyzed by gender When computer technology was first introduced in schools there was a prevailing belief that information and communication technologies were boys toys boys were assumed to have more positive attitudes toward using computer technologies As computer technologies have become more established throughout societies gender gaps in students computer and information literacy appear to be closing although studies into gender differences remain sparse The IEA s International Computer and Information Literacy Study ICILS is designed to discover how well students are prepared for study work and life in the digital age Despite popular beliefs a critical finding of ICILS 2013 was that internationally girls tended to score more highly than boys so why are girls still not entering technology based careers to the same extent as boys Readers will learn how male and female students differ in their computer literacy both general and specialized and use of computer technology and how the perceptions held about those technologies vary by gender

Schools That Succeed, Students Who Achieve James Deneen,2010-01-16 Schools That Succeed Students Who Achieve compares the academic achievements of students in the United States to those of students in other countries Examining fundamental questions and educational issues James Deneen identifies what all students should learn and discusses what American students currently learn Deneen argues that failing schools can become successful by studying examples of successful schools with similar demographic features To that end he presents profiles of ten successful elementary schools seven middle schools ten high schools and three highly diverse but successful school districts The examples contain a sampling of economically disadvantaged as well as affluent and financially average school communities This book provides demographic data evidence of student achievement and descriptions of programs that contribute to each school and district s success illuminating what successful schools do to improve student achievement regardless of or sometimes because of their socioeconomic status In the final chapters of this book Deneen describes the assessment and evaluation of curricular changes and summarizes the policies and practices that work to create successful schools Carr V.
