Sanders Thompson, Will Ross, Carol Camp Yeakey, Sheri Notaro, 2018-12-31 This book examines ways in which cancer health disparities exist due to class and context inequities even in the most advanced society of the world This volume while articulating health disparities in the St Louis Missouri metropolitan area including East St Louis Illinois seeks to move beyond deficit models to focus on health equity As cancer disparities continue to persist for low income and women of color the promotion and attainment of health equity becomes a matter of paramount importance The volume demonstrates the importance of place and the historical inequity in socio environmental settings that have contributed to marked health disparities Through original research this volume demonstrates that addressing the causes and contributors to women s health disparities is a complex process that requires intervention from a socio ecological framework at micro meso and macro levels of influence The book highlights critical aspects of a practical multidimensional model of community engagement with important influences of the various levels of research policy and practice More pointedly the authors support a new model of community engagement that focuses on individuals in their broader ecological context In so doing they seek to advance the art and science of community engagement and collaboration while disavowing the parachute model of research policy and practice that reinforces and sustains the problems associated with the status quo The book concludes with broader national policy considerations in the face of the erosion of the social safety net for America s citizenry

Possibilities of Place in Continental Thought Jussi Palmusaari,Nicolas Schneider,2024-09-05 Exploring the critical potential of place in continental philosophy Possibilities of Place in Continental Thought tests the political and ontological valences of this concept to go beyond the limits of existing geographical and phenomenological approaches Considering place as emergent relational and enveloping or in connection to passage becoming or redemption the contributions to this volume point to the possibilities inherent in philosophical uses of place By rejecting a singular and homogenous theory of place this collection collapses the dichotomies that tend to characterize the discourse on place in favour of a plural conceptualization. It draws attention to the spatial and temporal dynamics within varying theoretical and historical contexts and moves the field forward in significant and vital ways. The Poetry of Place Louisa MacKenzie, 2011-04-23. The sixteenth century in France was marked by religious warfare and shifting political and physical landscapes. Between 1549 and 1584 however the Pl iade poets including Pierre de Ronsard Joachim Du Bellay R my Belleau and Antoine de Ba f produced some of the most abiding and irenic depictions of rural French landscapes ever written. In The Poetry of Place Louisa Mackenzie reveals and analyzes the cultural history of French paysage through her study of lyric poetry and its connections with landscape painting cartography and land use history. In the face of destructive environmental change lyric poets in Renaissance France often wrote about idealized physical spaces reclaiming the altered landscape to counteract the violence and loss of the period and creating in the process what Mackenzie following David Harvey terms spaces of hope. This unique alliance of French Renaissance studies with cultural geography and eco criticism demonstrates that sixteenth century poetry created a powerful sense of place which continues to inform national and regional sentiment today. Selves in Time and Place Alfred Pach III, Debra Skinner, Dorothy Holland, 1998-07-02. Recently anthropology has turned to accounts of persons in history history in persons focusing on how individuals and groups as agents both fashion and are fashioned by social political and cultural discourses and practices. In this approach power agency and history are made explicit as individuals and groups work to constitute themselves in relation to others and within and against sociopolitical and historical contexts. Contributors to this volume extend this emphasis drawing upon their ethnographic research in Nepal to examine closely how selves identities and experience are produced in dialogical relationships through time in a multi ethnic nation state and within a discourse of nationalism. The diversity of peoples recent political transformations and nation building efforts make Nepal an especially rich locale to examine people s struggles to define and position themselves. But the authors move beyond geographical boundaries to more theoretical terrain to problematize the ways in which people recreate or contest certain identities and positions. Various authors explore how people positioned by gender ethnicity and locale use cultural genres to produce aspects of identities and experiences they examine how subjectivities agencies and cultural worlds co develop and are shaped through engagement with cultural forms and they portray the appropriation of multiple voices for self and group formation. As such this collection offers a richly textured and complex accounting of the mutual constitution of selves and society. Galilean Spaces of Identity Joseph Scales, 2024-02-12. We understand the world around us in terms of built spaces. Such spaces are shaped by human activity and in turn affect how people live. Through an analysis of archaeological and textual evidence from the beginnings of Hasmonean influence in Galilee until the outbreak of the First Jewish War against Rome this book explores how Judaism was socially expressed bodily communally and regionally. Within each expression certain aspects of Jewish identity operate these being purity conceptions communal gatherings and Galilee s relationship
