Theory and Practice in Adult Literacy, Learning and Social Change Anna Robinson-Pant, Catherine Kell, 2025-08-21
Offering new theoretical empirical and methodological perspectives on adult literacy lifelong learning and social change this book challenges traditional debates on adult literacy and development The volume brings together debates and research from the Global South and Global North and is original in moving beyond descriptive accounts of adult literacy programmes classrooms and a focus on best practice It provides both a historical perspective on this field as well as looking forward to future research and pedagogical directions By broadening from an international development to a social change perspective this book offers an alternative starting point Unlike development social transformation does not set a specific agenda nor assume a certain endpoint The authors set out to investigate the why and how of the assumed connections between adult learning literacy and social change contributing a deeper understanding into the complex and often unpredictable processes involved As well as focusing on literacy learning in classrooms and educational programmes the book explores literacy practices and adult learning in everyday spaces including social movements religious poetry and community initiatives Case studies from different cultural contexts introduce alternative theoretical lenses like the concept of the enacted body to explore a woman's experience of learning and social change in Nepal or investigating how religious poetry shared between generations in Iran could be working against social change

Constructing Irregular Theology Paul Chung, 2009-10-26 The project of constructing Asian irregular theology in East Asian perspective based on life word of Bamboo and social political reality of minjung embraces Dr Chung's cross cultural existence as he develops his long standing interest and expertise in Christian minjung theology in new ways with the image of bamboo as a symbol for the theological perspective of grass roots marginality Using the ancient Chinese story The Seven Sages of the Bamboo Grove Dr Chung engages with Christian eschatological discourse to support an aesthetical utopian theological ethics that is opposed to an ethics concerned with legitimization of a socio economic status quo In addition Dr Chung's develops his deep commitment to the Lutheran theology of the cross and the suffering Christ through the Buddhist concept of dukkha suffering to create in the end a genuinely East Asian contextual theology construction enactment and performance Focusing largely on teachers identities and practices as writers and the writer identities of primary and secondary students it also encompasses the perspectives of professional writers and highlights promising new directions for research With four interlinked sections this book offers Nuanced understandings of how writer identities are shaped and formed Insights into how classroom practice changes when teachers position themselves as writers alongside their students New understandings of what this positioning means for students identities as writers and writing pedagogy and Illuminating case studies mapping young people s writing trajectories With an international team of contributors the book offers a global perspective on this vital topic and makes a new and strongly theorised contribution to the field Viewing writer identity as fluid and multifaceted this book is important reading for practising teachers student teachers educational researchers and practitioners currently undertaking postgraduate studies Contributors include Teresa Cremin Terry Locke Sally Baker Josephine Brady Diane Collier Nikolaj Elf Ian Eyres Theresa Lillis Marilyn McKinney Denise Morgan Debra Myhill Mary Ryan Kristin Stang Chris Street Anne Whitney and Rebecca Woodard Children, Their Schools and What They Learn on Beginning Primary School Genevoix Nana,2013-11-13 This research is a pioneering study in comparative education in the context of Cameroon in particular and Africa in general which highlights present day school and classroom instances of language socialisation as instantiating Anglophone and Francophone education traditions in their representation of the British and French educational legacies from the colonial era Its findings point to practices specific to each study site and to Anglophone and Francophone subsystems of education as they translate local national and global education perspectives and parallel Anglophone and Francophone cultures writ large The narrative analysis and findings of this study are therefore of relevance to educational communities in other countries as issues of language socialisation ideology identity bilingualism multilingualism and comparative education are raised from a language and culture learning angle The findings of this work also present emerging patterns of communal practices resulting from the coexistence of both subsystems of education while the empirical data presented expose an inadequacy between official bilingualism discourse and its implementation in schools which may have a significant impact on future orientation of this policy in schools in Cameroon This book will be useful to scholars interested in the fields of language socialisation and comparative education in general and in Africa and Cameroon in particular It will also be of interest to language policymakers in the context of Cameroon as data from schools indicate that official bilingualism practice does not echo policy discourse and problematises the construct of a Cameroonian identity as constitutive of Anglophone Francophone and local cultures The data report however shows that the paradigm shift in teachers perceptions about the value of languages apparently influenced pupils attitudes towards the various languages to which they were being socialised both at home and in school and particularly shaped their understanding of the necessity of learning the second official language Literacy Theories for the Digital Age Kathy A.
