Dear [Recipient's Name],

Subject: Eagle Scout Recommendation for [Candidate's Full Name]

I am writing this letter to offer my strongest recommendation for [Candidate's Full Name] as he pursues the prestigious rank of Eagle Scout within [Scouting Organization]. As [Candidate's Full Name]'s [Relationship to Candidate] for the past [Number of Years], I have had the privilege of observing him closely in various settings and can attest to his exceptional character, leadership skills, and unwavering commitment to the principles of scouting.

I first encountered [Candidate's Full Name] when he joined our scout troop at the tender age of [Candidate's Age at that Time]. Even at such a young age, it was evident that he possessed a natural enthusiasm for scouting and an innate desire to make a positive impact on the world around him. Throughout his scouting journey, I have watched him grow into an extraordinary young man, demonstrating consistent dedication, integrity, and perseverance in all his endeavors.

Leadership is one of the core tenets of scouting, and [Candidate's Full Name] has exhibited exceptional leadership qualities that set him apart from his peers. He has served in various leadership roles within our troop, including [Specify Roles, e.g., Patrol Leader, Senior Patrol Leader], and in each position, he has excelled. As a leader, he has consistently shown a keen ability to motivate and inspire his fellow scouts, fostering a sense of camaraderie and unity within the troop. Under his guidance, the troop has successfully undertaken numerous projects and activities, all of which were executed with precision and efficiency.

Newsprint Literature and Local Literary Creativity in West Africa, 1900s-1960s Stephanie Newell, 2023 Winner 2024 Gustav Ranis International Book Prize Groundbreaking examination of literary production in West African newspapers and local printing presses in the first half of the 20th century which adds an African perspective to transatlantic Black studies and shows how African newsprint creativity has shaped readers ways of imagining subjectivity and society under colonialism From their inception in the 1880s African owned newspapers in British West Africa carried an abundance of creative writing by local authors largely in English Yet to date this rich and vast array of work has largely been ignored in critical discussion of African literature and cultural history This book for the first time explores this under studied archive of ephemeral writing from serialised fiction to poetry and short stories philosophical essays articles on local history travelogues and reviews and letters and argues for its inclusion in literary genres and anglophone world literatures Combining in depth case studies of creative writing in the Ghana and Nigeria press with a major reappraisal of the Nigerian pamphlets known as Onitsha market literature and focusing on non elite authors the author examines hitherto neglected genres styles languages and crucially readerships She shows how local print cultures permeated African literary production charting changes in literary tastes and transformations to genres and styles as they absorbed elements of globally circulating English texts into formats for local consumption Offering fresh trajectories for thinking about local and transnational African literary networks while remaining attuned to local textual cultures in contexts of colonial power relations anticolonial nationalism the Cold War and global circuits of cultural exchange this important book reveals new insights into ephemeral literature as significant sites of literary production and contributes to filling a gap in scholarship on colonial West Africa were indispensable They were how governments understood managed and defended their territory and during the two world wars they were produced by the hundreds of millions Cartographers and journalists predicted the dawning of a map minded age where increasingly state of the art maps would become everyday tools By the century s end however there had been decisive shift in mapping practices as the dominant methods of land surveying and print publication were increasingly displaced by electronic navigation systems In After the Map William Rankin argues that although this shift did not render traditional maps obsolete it did radically change our experience of geographic knowledge from the God s eye view of the map to the embedded subjectivity of GPS Likewise older concerns with geographic truth and objectivity have been upstaged by a new emphasis on simplicity reliability and convenience After the Map shows how this change in geographic perspective is ultimately a transformation of the nature of territory both social and political Eton College Chronicle Eton College,1911
