

Learning Objectives Define what birth, death, and life events are, how they are related to birth rates and death rates, aspects of population growth, and factors that influence birth rates, death rates, and growth rates.

Types of Population Dynamics		Factors	Effects
Population Growth	Births	An increase in individuals adds to the population, increasing birth rates.
	Deaths	A decrease in individuals subtracts from the population, decreasing death rates.
	Immigration	Individuals moving into the population increase the population size.
	Emigration	Individuals moving out of the population decrease the population size.
