

Hotel Rwanda ?s

Name: _____

Set during one of the worst atrocities in African history, this film (based on a true story) takes place amidst the attempted genocide of the Rwandan people in 1994 by the Hutu militia. Paul Rusesabagina was a hotel manager in Kigali who took in over 1,000 refugees at his elegant hotel to save their lives at great risk to himself and his family. This film finally brings this horrifying incident to light as it was barely a blip on the radar of the general public even though nearly 1 million Rwandans were killed.

Alternate assignment for those who did not watch the entire movie:

Research the Rwandan genocide and how it occurred. Write a 2 page paper (CP) or a 3-page paper (H) detailing the events. In the final paragraph, you decide who is responsible for this genocide. Double space it and type it.

Directions: answer the questions in detail.

1. When & where does this take place?
2. Which tribe does Paul belong to? Which tribe does Paul's wife belong to?
3. Who created the division among the tribes?
4. What did the United Nations try to do to help?
5. How is the media portrayed in this video? (The guys filming the genocide for the news – are they good guys or bad?) Give examples to back this up.

Rwandan Genocide Hotel Rwanda Question Answer:

The Rwandan Genocide on Film Matthew Edwards, 2018-07-11 The Rwandan genocide was one of the most shameful events of the 20th century. Many Westerners' understanding of it is based upon the Oscar winning film Hotel Rwanda and the critically acclaimed Shooting Dogs. Yet how accurately do these films depict events in Rwanda in 1994? Drawing on new scholarship, this collection of essays explores a variety of feature films and documentaries about the genocide to understand its expression in both Western and Rwandan cinema. Interviews with filmmakers are featured, including journalist Steve Bradshaw, BBC's Panorama director Nick Hughes, 100 Days director Lee Isaac Chung, Munyurangabo and Rwandan filmmakers Eric Kabera and Kivu Ruhorahoza.

It offers a rich pedagogical framework comprised of key classic readings, chapter learning outcomes, jargon-free argument analysis, critical thinking, and trivia questions, a glossary of terms, and textboxes with notes on the movies discussed. Revised to be even more accessible to beginning philosophers.

Inside the Hotel Rwanda Edouard Kayihura, Kerry Zukus, 2014-04-01 In 2004 the Academy Award-nominated movie Hotel Rwanda lionized hotel manager Paul Rusesabagina for single-handedly saving the lives of all who sought refuge in the Hotel des Milles Collines during Rwanda's genocide against the Tutsi in 1994. Because of the film, the real-life Rusesabagina has been compared to Oskar Schindler, but unbeknownst to the public, the hotel's refugees don't endorse Rusesabagina's version of the events. In the wake of Hotel Rwanda's international success, Rusesabagina is one of the most well-known Rwandans and now the smiling face of the very Hutu Power groups who drove the genocide. He is accused by the Rwandan prosecutor general of being a genocide negationist and funding the terrorist group Democratic Forces for the Liberation of Rwanda (FDLR). In Inside the Hotel Rwanda, survivor Edouard Kayihura tells his own personal story of what life was really like during those harrowing 100 days within the walls of that infamous hotel and offers the testimonies of others who survived there, from Hutu and Tutsi to UN peacekeepers. Kayihura tells of his life in a divided society and his journey to the place he believed would be safe from slaughter. Inside the Hotel Rwanda exposes Paul Rusesabagina as a profiteering, politically ambitious Hutu Power sympathizer who extorted money from those who sought refuge, threatening to send those who did not pay to the genocidaires despite pleas from the hotel's corporate ownership to stop. Inside the Hotel Rwanda is at once a memoir, a critical deconstruction of a heralded Hollywood movie alleged to be factual, and a political analysis aimed at exposing a falsely created hero using his fame to be a political force spouting the same ethnic apartheid.

In the Jaws of the Leviathan Joya Uraizee, 2020-06-01 This book analyzes representations of mass violence in film and fiction about African South American and Asian genocides from the points of view of the bystander and the survivor It argues that in commercial film and fiction metaphors and looks represent the violence and trauma indirectly even when the representation is quite graphic whereas in experimental novels and films looks used to describe the violence are individualized or interactive Both Bapsi Sidhwa s novel Cracking India and Deepa Mehta s film Earth deal with the violence of the partition of India in 1947 While Cracking India educates us about the dangers of the beast the violence Earth shows us the impact the beast has on victims like the beautiful Ayah nanny Similarly both Buchi Emecheta s novel Destination Biafra and Charles Enonchong s videos The Nigerian Biafran War Parts I II III depict the Nigerian Civil War of 1966 69 Yet while Emecheta s metaphors of division and bestiality highlight the selfishness of politicians and the suffering of civilians like Debbie looks exchanged by the survivors and the military in Enonchong s videos highlight the tragic ways in which generals like Ojukwu betrayed and were betrayed Metaphors and looks in Isabel Allende s novel The House of the Spirits and Bille August s movie which is based on it depict the terror of Pinochet s 1973 89 dictatorship in Chile Allende and August use metaphors and looks of sight and blindness to describe torture survivor Alba Blanca s trauma Alba Blanca re tells the events of the past in order to survive Photo journalist Alfredo Jaar s photos and notes Let There Be Light and Terry George s feature film Hotel Rwanda both depict the Rwandan genocide of 1994 but their emphasis is on inability of the Western bystander reader to hear or see the pain of the survivors Accordingly Jaar and George choose dark metaphors and looks to represent the violence using diffuse lighting fades and absences to stand for the violence and trauma Overall representations of genocide that involve individualized metaphors and interactive looks are vitally important if the complexities of that violence are to be appreciated in the West

Promise Practice Power and Potential provides timely studies of some of the most pressing issues in teaching and learning about the Holocaust around the world Europe is experiencing both anti Semitic attacks many by radicals claiming the banner of Islam and the resurgence of right wing movements that are openly hostile to minority rights particularly for marginalized and vulnerable groups like the Roma Sinti and Muslim refugees Can Holocaust education an encounter with the most extreme racial ideology to afflict the continent reduce violence and prejudice against Jewish and other minority groups The important studies in this volume address these and other pressing issues for the field including the progress of Central and Eastern European countries that experienced both Soviet hegemony and Nazi terror in grappling with the history of the Holocaust This book was originally published as a special issue of Intercultural Education Teaching Religion and Film

Gregory J Watkins,2008-08-22 In a culture increasingly focused on visual media students have learned not only to embrace multimedia presentations in the classroom but to expect them Such expectations are perhaps more prevalent in a field as dynamic and cross disciplinary as religious studies but the practice nevertheless poses some difficult educational issues the use of movies in academic coursework has far outpaced the scholarship on teaching religion and film What does it mean to utilize film in religious studies and what are the best ways to do it In Teaching Religion and Film an interdisciplinary team of scholars think about the theoretical and pedagogical concerns involved with the intersection of film and religion in the classroom. They examine the use of film to teach specific religious traditions, religious theories and perspectives on fundamental human values. Some instructors already teach some version of a film and religion course and many have integrated film as an ancillary to achieving central course goals. This collection of essays helps them understand the field better and draws the sharp distinction between merely watching movies in the classroom and comprehending film in an informed and critical way.

Foreign Policy in Post-Genocide Rwanda Jonathan R. Beloff, 2020-07-29. This book examines how Rwandan elites within the government, private sector and civil society perceive the nation's political and economic relationship with the international community. Using testimonies and interviews of Rwandan political, military and economic leaders and bureaucrats, this book examines the intersubjective beliefs that formulate how Rwanda engages with the international community. The book presents and analyses three primary intersubjective themes: historical and possible future abandonment of Rwanda, implementing an ideology of agaciro to promote self-respect, dignity and self-reliance for state security and economic development, and the belief in the government's obligation to promote human security for those who identify as Rwandan. These perceptions help us understand how post-genocide Rwanda engages with the international community in the pursuit of state security, economic development and to prevent a future genocide. This book will be of interest to students and scholars of African politics and international relations as well as the politics of post-genocide states.

Representing Genocide Rebecca Jinks, 2016-06-02. This book explores the diverse ways in which Holocaust representations have influenced and structured how other genocides are understood and represented in the West. Rebecca Jinks focuses in particular on the canonical 20th-century cases of genocide: Armenia, Cambodia, Bosnia and Rwanda. Using literature, film, photography and memorialisation, she demonstrates that we can only understand the Holocaust's status as a benchmark for other genocides if we look at the deeper structural resonances which subtly shape many representations of genocide. Representing Genocide pursues five thematic areas in turn: how genocides are recognised as such by western publics; the representation of the origins and perpetrators of genocide; how western witnesses represent genocide; representations of the aftermath of genocide; and western responses to genocide. Throughout the book, it distinguishes between mainstream and other more nuanced and engaged representations of genocide It shows how these mainstream representations the majority largely replicate the representational framework of the Holocaust including the way in which mainstream Holocaust representations resist recognising the rationality instrumentality and normality of genocide preferring instead to present it as an aberrant exceptional event in human society By contrast the more engaged representations often but not always originating from those who experienced genocide tend to revolve around precisely genocide's ordinariness and the structures and situations common to human society which contribute to and become involved in the violence

Crowder-Taraborrelli, 2012-01-04 Film and Genocide brings together scholars of film and of genocide to discuss film representations both fictional and documentary of the Holocaust the Armenian genocide and genocides in Chile Australia Rwanda and the United States Since 1955 when Alain Resnais created his experimental documentary Night and Fog about the Nazis mass killings of Jews and other ostracized groups filmmakers have struggled with using this medium to tell such difficult stories to re create the sociopolitical contexts of genocide and to urge awareness and action among viewers This volume looks at such issues as realism versus fiction the challenge of depicting atrocities in a manner palatable to spectators and film distributors the Holocaust film as a model for films about other genocides and the role of new technologies in disseminating films about genocide Film and Genocide also includes interviews with three film directors who discuss their experiences in working with deeply disturbing images and bringing hidden stories to life Irek Dobrowolski director of The Portraitist 2005 a documentary about Wilhelm Brasse an Auschwitz Birkenau prisoner ordered to take more than 40 000 photos at the camp Nick Hughes director of 100 Days 2005 a dramatic film about the Rwandan mass killings and Greg Barker director of Ghosts of Rwanda 2004 a television documentary for Frontline

Political Evil Alan Wolfe, 2012-09-04 A timely eye opening examination of political evil a concept widely misunderstood and desperately in need of clarification in our ever more chaotic world In an age of genocide terrorism ethnic cleansing and torture evil threatens us in ways radically different from tsunamis and financial panics Nature unleashes its wrath and people rush to help the victims Evil shows its face and we are paralyzed over how to respond It was not always this way During the twentieth century thinkers as diverse as Hannah Arendt Reinhold Niebuhr Arthur Koestler and George Orwell made evil central to everything they wrote Acclaimed political scientist Alan Wolfe argues that in an age of partisan blame assigning therapeutic excuse making and theological question dodging we need to get serious about the problem of evil once again While there will always be something incomprehensible about evil we are very much capable of understanding and combating the use of evil means to obtain political ends Looking at examples of political evil around the globe in the Middle East Darfur the Balkans and at home in the West Wolfe shows us how seemingly small distinctions can make an immense difference in international response And he makes clear that much needed change can be initiated with a shift in how we talk and think about political evil At once impassioned and pragmatic Political Evil sheds essential light on the creation of policy and on a concrete path to a more practicable and just future
