

Extra Testing Section - (Experiments 1,2,3) - Part II

Evidence for wave nature of light:

1. Interference experiments have revealed that light exhibits wave-like behavior in situations:
 - a. double-slit interference
 - b. thin film interference
 - c. diffraction gratings
2. Huygens' principle can explain interference. Huygens is formulated as: a point on a wave front serves as the center for the wavelets.
3. Huygens' principle doesn't predict wavelets in the direction of travel. The solution was to use Huygens' principle on the wavelets' wave fronts and realize that wavelets move in all directions.

Evidence for particle nature of light:

1. photoelectric effect: light propagates as waves
 - a. without wave-like frequencies of light, electrons are ejected from metals and semiconductors
2. 1905 Max Planck introduced quantum mechanics
 - a. electrons transfer discrete or quantized amounts of energy to atoms or molecules
3. experimentally revealed as quantum

Instead of wave-like light, photons propagate as particles, but frequency is related to energy

Without this photon particle effect, electrons in metals are not ejected. There is a threshold frequency of light needed to eject electrons

Lighter light ejects less energy from metals, but lighter light is needed to eject electrons from metals. Light is quantized as photons

4. The wave theory cannot explain the photoelectric effect
