

Gibbs Reflective Cycle

STAGE 1: Description.

-This stage is about describing the experience. In this section, you state what happened, this could include new experiences, whether personal, professional or academic. Stating the experience or activity is necessary, because it is a factual description of events. Only the facts about what happened with the experience/event should be included in this section. It can include factors such as describing an activity which the individual had an active role in, or if an incident happened when you were playground monitor. It would be beneficial to reflect on an activity where you were placed with an obstacle which you had to overcome, and whether you were able to successfully or unsuccessfully solve the problem.

STAGE 2: Feelings

Unlike a lot of reflective cycles Gibb's reflective cycle includes an aspect of your personal feelings during this reflective experience. This is because as part of Gibb's theory of reflection, he believes that personal feelings influence a situation and how an individual would reflect on the experience. In the feelings section, you would describe how you felt during the experience, whether you noted any strengths or weaknesses of your own personal role whilst conducting the experience/activity. This is an important part of the reflective cycle because it includes your own personal view on your development. However, this section is not always effective for reflection because as it includes your own personal feelings, an individual can make assumptions on how the experience went, rather than it being based on factual events. Including feelings as part of a reflective cycle therefore creates the reflection to be a subjective cycle, opposed to using objectivity that creates an outsiders perception of an event.

STAGE 3: EVALUATION

Within this section it is important to state whether you were able to overcome the obstacle, or if you were unable to problem solve. As part of evaluating the reflective experience it is important to state any positive or negatives of the situation. Were you unprepared for something that occurred, but were you able to positively solve the situation? Or did you require any additional support? Was the activity/experience concluded in a beneficial way, or would you be required to conduct it in a different manner if it was to happen again? Here you simply state the good and bad aspects of the reflective experience, it is important to include both positive and negative parts because both are necessary to show learning and development in your professional role.

Guide to Successful Reflection: Ten Essential Ingredients 2e Nicola Clarke, 2024-03-25. This book is an engaging and enlightening read. I highly recommend it to all personal tutors, academic advisors and anyone in higher education who guides students to learn more about themselves. Dr David Grey, UK Advising and Tutoring Association CEO. This book provides a unique, engaging perspective on successful reflection, which is a welcome addition to the arduous academic textbooks on offer. Shelley O'Connor, Senior Lecturer in Mental Health Nursing, Liverpool John Moores University, UK. The second edition of this essential book continues to provide practitioners with an accessible and thorough account of reflection's essential ingredients. Dr Marc Roberts, Visiting Lecturer, Faculty of Health Education and Life Sciences, Birmingham City University, UK. This book is an easy-to-read practical guide that will show you what reflection is and how you can do it successfully. Assuming no prior knowledge, this fully revised and updated text utilises the established ten essential ingredients of reflection from the first edition. It builds on this foundation to develop much-needed reflective skills with new and updated chapters enabling you to apply complex reflective theory and become an effective reflective practitioner. In clear and supportive language, Nicola Clarke will equip you with evidence-informed understanding and ideas for application to your own situation and support you to become an emotionally resilient, self-aware individual who can reflect and empower yourself to become the best version of you. This book includes Expansion beyond nursing to include those who study any subject in allied health and the related fields where reflection is a requirement. New chapters exploring what reflection is, reflective writing for academic purpose, guided reflection and new frameworks to support reflection. A how-to approach using exercises for and examples from Health Education and Life Sciences, HELS and the everyday reflection and reflective practice made real. Authentic jargon-free writing that speaks to and is inclusive of the reader. Information that will empower you to reflect correctly and inform how you receive and who you allow to support guided reflection in you. This book is a must-have text for all students of nursing, allied health, social work and all fields where an understanding of self and reflection is required. Dr Nicola Clarke is a senior lecturer and doctoral supervisor for the faculty of Health Education and Life Sciences, HELS at Birmingham City University.
