This essential text provides ideas for trainees and teachers to extend both their own teaching and their pupils learning in primary English through creative approaches and enrichment strategies to promote best practice and outstanding teaching. The book is accessible to all levels of experience and combines theory with practice throughout delivering the required subject knowledge while encouraging innovative approaches that demand critical reflection. It looks closely at how young children learn to read and write and how practitioners can enable this development through creative ideas. The book begins with an exploration of the development of speaking and listening skills which form the foundation of successful literacy. Chapters then cover all the key elements of the new curriculum including word reading, reading comprehension, transcription and composition, plus additional material on drama and reading for pleasure. Throughout the book, there is a clear progression from KS1 to KS2 and a focus on creativity as a vital ingredient in successful English teaching.

Metaphor and Film Trevor Whittock, 1990-09-28. In Metaphor and Film, Trevor Whittock demonstrates that feature films are permeated by metaphors that were consciously introduced by directors. An examination of cinematic metaphor forces us to reconsider the nature of metaphor itself and the ways by which such visual imagery can be recognised and understood as well as interpreted. Metaphor and Film identifies the principal forms of cinematic metaphor and also provides an analysis of the mental operations that one must bring to it. Recent developments in cognitive psychology, especially those relating to the nature and formation of categories, are called upon to explain these processes. Metaphor and Film ranges widely over film theory as it does over philosophical, literary, linguistic and psychological accounts of metaphor. Particularly useful to those studying film literature and aesthetics, this study is also a provocative contribution to an important debate in which film theorists and philosophers are currently engaged.

Rhymes for the Times: Literacy Strategies through Social Studies Timothy Rasinski, David L. Harrison, 2016-01-04. This resource enables teachers to incorporate today's career and college readiness standards into their lessons in a fun and intriguing way. The sixty poems that are included focus on social studies topics including US history and ancient civilizations. The use of poetry has many benefits that include increased literacy fluency and reading comprehension. Each strategy lesson includes a model lesson, a template, an example lesson, a sample poem and student pages. Students will be engaged in the verse format as they increase their literacy and understanding of social studies topics.

Young Readers and Their Books Gervase Phinn, 2013-11-26. First Published in 2000. This book offers teachers a useful and very readable text to help them select stories, poetry and non-fiction material for the primary classroom with ideas on how to teach them. Appropriate selection criteria are discussed and suggestions are given about keeping up with a range of available texts. There is a comprehensive guide to the whole range of books appropriate for use in the Literacy Hour. Part 2 gives practical approaches tried and tested in primary classrooms which reflect the guidance contained in The National Curriculum Programmes of Study for English and The National Literacy Strategy. Gervase Phinn has rare gifts as a teacher, speaker, storyteller and writer, all of which skills come together in the authoring of this book.

Confronting Metaphor in Use Mara Sophia Zannotti, Lynne Cameron, Marilda C. Cavalcanti, 2008-03-27 It is timely for researchers to approach metaphor as social and situated as a matter of language and discourse and not just as a matter of thought Over the last twenty five years scholars have come to appreciate in depth the cognitive motivated and embodied nature of metaphor but have tended to background the linguistic form of metaphor and have largely ignored how this connects to its role in the discourses in which our lives are constructed and lived This book brings language and social dimensions into the picture offering snapshots of metaphor use in real language and in real lives across the very different cultures of Europe and Brazil and contributing to the theorizing of metaphor in discourse Home Learning Year by Year, Revised and Updated Rebecca Rupp, 2020-01-21 A comprehensive guide to designing homeschool curriculum from one of the country's foremost homeschooling experts now revised and updated Homeschooling can be a tremendous gift to your children a personalized educational experience tailored to each kid's interests abilities and learning styles But what to teach and when and how Especially for first time homeschoolers the prospect of tackling an annual curriculum can be daunting In Home Learning Year by Year Rebecca Rupp presents comprehensive plans from preschool through high school covering integral subjects for each grade with lists of topics commonly presented at each level recommended resource and reading lists and suggestions for creative alternative options and approaches Included along with all the educational basics are techniques and resources for teaching everything from philosophy to engineering as well as suggestions for dealing with such sensitive topics as sex education Now revised throughout with all new updates featuring the most effective and up to date methods and reading guides to homeschool your child at all ages Home Learning Year by Year continues to be the definitive book for the homeschooling parent
