Cosmopolitan Sex Workers Christine B.N. Chin, 2013-04-15 Cosmopolitan Sex Workers is a groundbreaking look into the phenomenon of non trafficked women who migrate from one global city to another to perform paid sexual labor in Southeast Asia Through a new innovative framework Christine B N Chin shows that as neoliberal economic restructuring processes create pathways connecting major cities throughout the world competition and collaboration between cities creates new avenues for the movement of people services and goods Loosely organized networks of migrant labor grow in tandem with professional managerial classes and sex workers migrate to different parts of cities depending on the location of the clientele to which they cater But while global cities create economic opportunities for migrants and depend on the labor they provide states react with new forms of securitization and surveillance As a result migrants must negotiate between appropriating and subverting the ideas that inform global economic restructuring Chin argues that migration allows women to develop intercultural skills that help them to make these negotiations Cosmopolitan Sex Workers is innovative not only in its focus on non trafficked women but in its analysis of the complex relationship between global economic processes and migration for sex work Through fascinating interviews with sex workers in Kuala Lumpur Chin shows that sex work can provide women with the means of earning income for families for education and even for their own businesses It also allows women the means to travel the world a form of cosmopolitanism from below

Critical Social Challenges in the Tourism Industry: Labor, Commodification, and Drugs Çıvık, Barış, Bayraktaroğlu, Engin, 2023-09-25 Critical Social Challenges in the Tourism Industry Labor Gentrification and Drugs is a groundbreaking book that delves into the often overlooked critical issues within the field of tourism. The book adopts a critical perspective shedding light on power relations, domination and oppression within the tourism industry. By exposing these dynamics, the critical paradigm seeks to liberate both tourist destinations and employees from exploitative conditions. From examining the social and environmental effects of tourism to addressing critical topics such as gentrification, consumerism, commodification and critical pedagogy, this comprehensive study offers a fresh and thought-provoking analysis of the field. With a focus on labor transformation, the formation of the working class and the employment of women, children and immigrants, the book uncovers the intricate labor processes and interactions within the tourism industry. Furthermore, it explores important aspects such as tourist-employee interaction, LGBT tourism, illegal sex tourism and the use of drugs and psychedelics in the context of tourist mobility. This book is ideal for researchers and students in the field of tourism, offering a comprehensive examination of critical issues within the industry.

Remaking the Chinese City Joseph W. Esherick, 2001-10-31 In China today, skyscrapers tower over ancient temples, freeways deliver lines of cars and tour buses to imperial palaces, cinema houses compete with old theaters featuring Peking Opera. The disparity evidenced in the contemporary Chinese cityscape can be traced to the early decades of the twentieth century when government elites sought to transform cities into a new world that would be at once modern and distinctly Chinese. Remaking the Chinese City aims to capture the full diversity of recent Chinese urbanism by examining the modernist transformations of China's cities in the first half of the twentieth century. Collecting in one place some of the most interesting and exciting new work on Chinese urban history, this volume presents thirteen essays discussing ten Chinese cities: the commercial and industrial center of Shanghai, the old capital Beijing, the southern coastal city of Canton, the interior's Chengdu, the tourist city of Hangzhou, the utopian New Capital built in Manchuria during the Japanese occupation, the treaty port of Tianjin, the Nationalists' capital in Nanjing, and temporary wartime capitals of Wuhan and Chongqing. Unlike past treatments of early twentieth-century China which characterize the period as one of failure and decay, the contributors to this volume describe an exciting world in constant and fundamental change. During this time, the Chinese city was remade to accommodate parks and police, paved roads and public spaces. Rickshaws, trolleys and buses allowed the growth of new downtowns. Department stores, theaters, newspapers and modern advertising nourished a new urban identity. Sanitary regulations and traffic laws were enforced and modern media and transport permitted unprecedented freedoms. Yet despite their fondness for things Western and modern, early urban planners envisioned cities that would lead the Chinese nation and preserve Chinese tradition. The very desire for modernity led to the construction of a visible and accessible national past and the imagining of a distinctive national future. In their investigation of the national capitals of the period, the essays show how cities were reshaped to represent and serve the nation. To promote tourism traditions were invented and recycled for the pleasure and edification of new middle class and foreign consumers of culture Abundantly illustrated with maps and photographs Remaking the Chinese City presents the best and most current scholarship on modern Chinese cities Its thoroughness and detailed scholarship will appeal to the specialist while its clarity and scope will engage the general reader Contributors Michael Tsin on Canton Ruth Rogaski and Brett Sheehan on Tianjin David Buck on Changchun Kristin Stapleton on Chengdu Liping Wang on Hangzhou Madeleine Dong on Beijing Charles Musgrove on Nanjing Stephen MacKinnon on Wuhan Lee MacIsaac on Chongqing and Jeffrey Wasserstrom and David Strand with concluding essays
