WHAT'S UP: A RELATIVE AGE DATING ACTIVITY PART I

Name: _____

Period: _____ Date: _____

Purpose: In this activity you will learn to determine the sequence of geologic events from cross-sections of strata (rocks) in a given area. It is a bit of a mind-puzzler, so have fun!

Background: Before absolute dating of rocks was developed in the 20th century, geologists had to rely on relative age dating, which places geologic events in their order of occurrence. The method begins with the careful drawing and description of strata (the geologic cross section or profile). Relative age dating uses the following principles to place rock ages and geologic events in chronological order. It does not assign actual (absolute) ages to any of the layers. Both absolute ages and correlation of profiles from different locations will be explored in future lessons.

Principle of superposition: in a sequence of undeformed sedimentary rocks, the oldest beds are on the bottom and the youngest are on the top.

Principle of original horizontality: sedimentary layers are horizontal, or nearly so, when originally deposited. Strata that are not horizontal have been tilted by movements of the Earth's crust.

Principle of faunal succession: groups of fossil plants and animals occur in the geologic record in a definite and determinable order. A period of geologic time can be recognized by its respective fossils.

Principle of crosscutting relations: geologic features, such as faults, and igneous intrusions are younger than the rocks they cut.

Principle of inclusion: a rock body that contains inclusions of preexisting rocks is younger than the rocks from which the inclusions came from.

For each of the following 12 illustrations decide which feature is older and which principle applies.
