Fake News Is Bad News Ján Višňovský, Jana Radošinská, 2021-09-08 We live in the era of the digital revolution characterized by easy access to obtaining processing and disseminating information on a global scale The emergence of these global digital spaces has transformed the world of communication This shift in our understanding of what we should be informed about when and how manifests itself not only within mature liberal democracies which grant their citizens and the media constitutionally guaranteed freedom of speech and rights associated with obtaining information but also within developing countries with different types of political establishments Moreover many media producers especially journalists and persons claiming to be journalists abuse their crucial mission and instead foster a set of serious communication phenomena that threaten basic human rights and freedoms weaken them or decelerate their development The publication is focused on the ways fake news disinformation misinformation and hateful statements are spread across society predominantly within the online environment Its main ambition is to offer an interdisciplinary body of scholarly knowledge on fake news disinformation and propaganda in relation to today's journalism social development political situation and cultural affairs happening all around the world

Discourse and Defiance under Nazi Occupation Cheryl R. Jorgensen-Earp, 2013-11-01 Captured by German forces shortly after Dunkirk and not relinquished until May of 1945 nearly a year after the Normandy invasion the British Channel Islands Guernsey Jersey Alderney Sark and Herm were characterized during their occupation by severe deprivation and powerlessness The Islanders with few resources to stage an armed resistance constructed a rhetorical resistance based upon the manipulation of discourse construction of new symbols and defiance of German restrictions on information Though much of modern history has focused on the possibility that Islanders may have collaborated with the Germans this eye opening history turns to secret war diaries kept in Guernsey A close reading of these private accounts written at great risk to the diarists allows those who actually experienced the Occupation to reclaim their voice and reveals new understandings of Island resistance What emerges is a stirring account of the unquenchable spirit and deft improvisation of otherwise ordinary people in extraordinary circumstances Under the most dangerous of conditions Guernsey civilians used imaginative methods in reacting to their position as a subjugated population devising a covert resistance of nuance and sustainability Violence this book and the people of Guernsey demonstrate is not at all the only means with which to confront evil

Peace-Making and the Imagination Andrew Strathern, Pamela J. Stewart, 2012-07-01 A compelling new book that presents a thoughtful and creative approach to transforming violent discordances this work examines the intractable issues of revenge and restitution in a conflict context It argues that in communities where violence must be paid for through compensation violent conflict can be contained With primary reference to the Highlands of Papua New Guinea and comparisons to cases from Africa Pakistan and other arenas of tribal social formations the account explores how rituals such as wealth disbursement oath taking sacrifice and formal apologies are often used as a means of averting or transcending acts of vengeance after violence Through exploration of the balance between revenge and compensation at different junctures in the peace making process this compelling text devises a thought provoking and inventive analysis that would benefit countless communities in conflict around the world Rumors, Race and Riots Terry Ann Knopf, 2017-07-12 Are race related rumors rooted in the personality traits of the individual Are they a kind of improvised news for a community Do they come and go at random or form definite recognizable patterns What role do the news media play in spreading rumors These and other questions are treated in this classic study now available in paperback with a new introduction by the author of how and why rumors emerge in connection with racial disorders Included is an examination and critique of the three major models of rumor formation the psychological approach emphasizing the emotional needs and drives of the individual the functional approach which views rumors as a form of improvised news and the conspiratorial approach which sees rumors as deliberately planted and not spontaneous The author's process model of rumor formation is based on the premise that rumors cannot cause violence and that violence cannot cause rumors Both are viewed as parts of the same process Rumors are seen as just one of a series of determinants each of which increases the likelihood of a collective outburst Among the determinants examined are conditions of stress a rigid social structure supported by a racist ideology and a hostile belief system or negative set of generalized perceptions held separately by different groups Race related rumors are functionally tied to the latter point and crystallize confirm and intensify these beliefs by linking them to actual events Hundreds of pertinent rumors are documented from local newspapers and investigative accounts An exhaustive systematic inquiry is made into the series of disorders that occurred between 1967 and 1970 The role played by rumors during these disturbing times is examined and compared to earlier periods of unrest Implications for public policy are explored along with a hard look at rumor control centers The influence of the police and other public officials as well as the news media are Cricket, My Style Kapil Dev, 1987 Experiences of an Indian cricket captain Behind Barbed Wire Tan Teng Phee, 2022-12-06 Behind Barbed Wire looks behind the facade to ask what it was really like to be moved to and live in a New Village Tan who himself lived in New Villages growing up combines archival sources and oral history to give us a rounded account We need Tan's book because up to now the outsider's view has predominated and outsiders have their own agenda Karl Hack in the Journal of the Malaysian Branch of the Royal Asiatic Society This unique book revisits the moment in the Malayan Emergency when some 500 000 women children and men were uprooted from their homes and moved into new settlements guarded day and night by police and troops A majority were rural Chinese market gardeners shopkeepers rice farmers tin miners and rubber tappers who had long made Malaya their home and had lived through the hardships of the Japanese Occupation Based upon newly accessible archival materials and painstaking multilingual interviews with more than 80 informants in four New Villages Tan Teng Phee rewrites the history of the Emergency exposing the voices of those at the heart of this lauded social experiment In Francis Loh's words these were ordinary villagers caught in the crossfire between the British security forces and the Malayan Communist Party whose lives were turned inside out and re ordered completely with daily curfews body searches and food controls alongside the carrots and sticks of registration re education sanitation psychological warfare and swift punishment Highlighting the disciplinary aims of British policy as well as the ways in which villagers resisted this discipline through weapons of the weak this book forms a unique history from below of the Malayan Emergency and of a resettlement programme which shaped the social and geographical landscape of Malaysia for generations to come
