Patrons and Adversaries Caroline Castiglione, 2005-02-03 The early modern Roman countryside was a site of contestation between great aristocratic families and an expanding papal political regime Rarely has the role of the inhabitants of this landscape the villagers been considered as part of that power struggle As Caroline Castiglione shows in this compelling revisionist work one Roman aristocratic family the Barberini was not squeezed out of governing by the extension of the papal bureaucracy but rather became increasingly engaged with it during the long eighteenth century Through their participation in the rural commune villagers in an extensive territory belonging to the Barberini became active participants in the governing of the countryside Villagers cultivated and exploited interference from the aristocratic family and the papal government but they also kept urban elites at bay defending their rights through the strategies of adversarial literacy Such literate practices drew on village mastery of local constitutions debates in the village assembly and brilliant use of the legal system of the papacy to thwart the designs of the Barberini. Later villagers created and interpreted sources for themselves effectively challenging the elite monopoly on making and interpreting texts. A lost world of increasingly savvy villagers, irate nobles and exasperated bureaucrats emerges here in an engaging narrative that chronicles how seemingly marginalized villagers challenged the pragmatic control of the Roman countryside using texts and ideas that urban elites had exported to the countryside for other purposes.

Designing the American Century Thomas J. Campanella, 2025-07-08 A richly illustrated look at the lives and collaborations of two unsung giants of American landscape and urban design. Gilmore D. Clarke and Michael Rapuano were the foremost spatial designers of the American century. Their vast portfolio of public landscapes propelled the legacy of Frederick Law Olmsted and Calvert Vaux into the motor age, touching the lives of millions and changing the face of the nation. Designing the American Century recovers the forgotten legacy of Clarke and Rapuano whose parks and parkways, highways and housing estates helped modernize for better or worse the American metropolis. With the patronage of public works titan Robert Moses, Clarke and Rapuano transformed New York over a span of fifty years, revitalizing the city's immense park system but also planning expressways, public housing and urban renewal projects that laid waste to entire sections of the city. In this groundbreaking work, Thomas J. Campanella describes how Clarke and Rapuano helped create some of the metropolitan region's most iconic landscapes, from the Central Park Zoo and Conservatory Garden to the Henry Hudson Parkway and Riverside Park, Jones Beach, the Palisades and Taconic State Parkways and the Brooklyn Heights Promenade. He shows how they left their mark far beyond Gotham as well with projects as diverse as Yellowstone's Mammoth Hot Springs, the Mount Vernon Memorial Highway, site plans for the Pentagon and CIA headquarters and Montreal's Olympic Park. Richly illustrated with a wealth of previously unpublished drawings, plans and photographs, Designing the American Century fills one of the last major gaps in the history of American urbanism.
