School Education in India Manish Jain, Archana Mehendale, Rahul Mukhopadhyay, Padma M. Sarangapani, Christopher Winch, 2018-05-11 This volume examines how the public and private domains in school education in India are informed and mediated by current market realities It moves beyond the simplistic dichotomy of pro state versus pro market factors that define most current debates in the formulations of educational reform agendas to underline how they need to be interpreted in the larger context The chapters in the volume present a series of conceptual and empirical investigations to understand the growth of private schools in India investigate the largely uncontested claims made by the private sector regarding provision of superior quality of education and their ability to address the educational needs of the poor Further the book looks at how the private public dichotomy has been extended to professional identity of teachers and teaching practices as well Rich in primary data and supported by detailed case studies this volume will be of interest to teachers scholars and researchers dealing with education educational policy school education and public policy It will also interest policy makers think tanks and civil society organisations
