The Era of World War II Louise A. Arnold-Friend, 1979 The Greatest Naval War Ever Fought Vincent O'Hara, 2025-10-14 The greatest naval conflict in history occurred during World War II from 1939 to 1945 Most people are familiar with the famous Battle of the Atlantic and epic naval engagements in the Pacific like Midway and Leyte Gulf all of which receive ample coverage in this panoramic work However author Vince O Hara offers a truly global perspective of World War II at sea that captures every aspect of a vast naval conflict that involved dozens of nations more than 15 000 ships and 43 7 million tons of shipping Approximately 570 000 lives were lost at sea in those six years Here the naval action begins in the Baltic Sea before dawn on September 1 1939 when a German battleship opened fire on Polish troops barricaded in a fortress in the port city of Danzig Poland Over the ensuing nine months the conflict spread into Great Britain's home waters of the North Sea the English Channel and the eastern Atlantic One of the most remarkable naval achievements of the war occurred in 1940 during the German invasion of Norway The Kriegsmarine's successful attack in the face of immensely superior Allied naval forces was the war's first large scale amphibious operation As naval activities in Europe expanded into the Mediterranean the war in the Pacific exploded with the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor in December 1941 That assault led to a series of critical naval battles between Japan and the United States including Wake Island Coral Sea Midway and Guadalcanal O Hara not only deftly examines all the major naval contests in the European and Pacific theaters but also offers detailed analysis of secondary navies such as France Italy and the Soviet Union He explores little known smaller engagements such as the campaigns between Thailand and France or Peru and Ecuador O Hara connects this broad range of naval action by focusing on recurring themes of technological innovation command and control logistics and intelligence He demonstrates that there was more than one path to winning sea power and that the most important naval platforms to emerge from the war were the oiler the Landing Ship Tank LST and the Liberty ship not the aircraft carrier the submarine or the battleship O Hara makes clear to readers that the impact of the naval battles won by the Allies still reverberates today

Army in World War II Harry L. Coles, Albert K. Weinberg, 1986 A documentary history with brief narrative introductions illustrating the evolution of civil affairs policy and practice in the Mediterranean and European theaters Most important of all in World War II soldiers became governors in a much broader sense than ever before so much more than was foreseen that the Army's specialized training proved scant preparation for perhaps the most important phase of their role They became not merely the administrators of civilian life for the Army's immediate needs but at the same time the executors and at times even by force of circumstances the proposers of national and international political policy This broader role arose from the fact that in World War II the Allies strove to realize from the very beginning of occupation political aims that had usually not been implemented during war or if during war at all not until active hostilities had ended Thus in enemy countries civil affairs officials were immediately to extirpate totalitarian governmental and economic systems in liberated countries they were as soon as possible to aid in restoring indigenous systems and authorities and in both types of countries they were to make an all out effort to effect gradual transition toward the envisaged postwar national and international order Peace

Without Money, War Without Americans Prof Dr Sven Biscop, 2015-12-28 Britain and France were surprised at having to convince the US of the need to intervene in Libya in 2011 The French intervention in Mali in 2013 confirmed the picture Washington will support European action but only if and when Europe takes the initiative Just as the focus of American strategy is shifting to Asia and the Pacific vital interests in the European neighbourhood require resolute action The ramifications of the Arab Spring and the crisis in Ukraine pose challenges of an enormous scale for the EU and its members Peace Without Money War Without Americans is the double challenge that European strategy makers face What can be expected from strategy at a European level Can Europe cope
