IN-TEXT CITATION is used to identify your source of information, whether quoted or paraphrased, within your paper. It is brief information, referring the reader to your reference list. Include the author(s) last name (unless it appears in the narrative) and the date. For quotations, include the page number, or for electronic (online) articles without page numbers, use a brief section title and paragraph number. Here are a few examples:

Quotations -- with pages: "Our culture is full of simpleminded myths of blame" (Sher, 1994, p. 45).

-- online article, no pages: "Empirical studies have found mixed results" (Golan & Kuchler, 2007, "Conclusions," para. 4).

One author: Pagels (1995) discussed ... Two authors: Juedes and Curry (1999) concluded...
OR (Pagels, 1995) OR (Juedes & Curry, 1999)

Three to five authors – first citation: Smiler, Kay, and Harris (2008) examined the history...

-- more references to the same source (first author followed by et al.):
Smiler et al. (2008) found...

Six or more authors: The first author followed by et al for all citations. If there is more than one article with the same lead author, see the manual for directions.

Multiple works cited together: List alphabetically by first author.

Several studies (Balda, 1995; Kamil, 1988; Pepperberg & Funk, 1990)...

Personal Communications (e.g., e-mail, personal interviews): These are included for in-text citations, but are not included in the reference list because they are not recoverable.

...as described by R. Gerstner (personal communication, November 12, 2001).

Secondary Source (use sparingly): The secondary source, Claiborne, is the one included in the reference list.

Handbook of Demonstrations and Activities in the Teaching of Psychology Mark E. Ware,David E. Johnson,2016-02-04 For those who teach students in psychology education and the social sciences the Handbook of Demonstrations and Activities in the Teaching of Psychology Second Edition provides practical applications and rich sources of ideas Revised to include a wealth of new material 56% of the articles are new these invaluable reference books contain the collective experience of teachers who have successfully dealt with students difficulty in mastering important concepts about human behavior Each volume features a table that lists the articles and identifies the primary and secondary courses in which readers can use each demonstration Additionally the subject index facilitates retrieval of articles according to topical headings and the appendix notes the source as it originally appeared in Teaching of Psychology especially useful for users needing to cite information The official journal of the Society for the Teaching of Psychology Division Two of the American Psychological Association

Teaching of Psychology is a highly respected publication devoted to improving teaching and learning at all educational levels. Volume III consists of 95 articles about teaching personality, abnormal, clinical, counseling, and social psychology. Divided into four sections, one for each specialty, the book suggests ways to work with case studies, advocate a research perspective, use the arts and literature as teaching tools, and otherwise facilitate understanding of theoretical concepts.

The Process of Research and Statistical Analysis in Psychology Dawn M. McBride, 2019-07-17. The Process of Research and Statistical Analysis in Psychology presents integrated coverage of psychological research methods and statistical analysis to illustrate how these two crucial processes work together to uncover new information. Best-selling author Dawn M. McBride draws on over 20 years of experience using a practical step-by-step approach in her teaching to guide students through the full process of designing, conducting, and presenting a research study. The text opens with introductory discussions of why psychologists conduct and analyze research before digging into the process of designing an experiment and performing statistical analyses. Each chapter concludes with exercises and activities that promote critical thinking, the smart consumption of research, and practical application. Students will come away with a complete picture of the role that research plays in psychology as well as their everyday lives.

The Process of Research in Psychology Dawn M. McBride, 2019-01-02. The Process of Research in Psychology employs the pedagogical approach of spaced repetition to present a student-friendly introduction to conducting research in psychology. Drawing on more than 17 years of teaching experience, best-selling author Dawn M. McBride covers topics with step-by-step explanations to help students understand the full process of designing, conducting, and presenting a research study. Early chapters introduce important concepts for developing research ideas, subject sampling, ethics, and data collection; more detailed coverage of these topics is included in More About chapters to provide instructors with flexibility in their teaching. Concepts and skills relevant to more than one stage of the research process are covered in multiple contexts, providing repeated exposure to the topics students often struggle with but that are the most important in gaining research skills.

The Research Paper Thomas Elmer Gaston, Bret H. Smith, 1988. This introduction to research and report writing features examples of real-life practical applications for business, technical, and professional purposes.

The Common Core Companion: The Standards Decoded, Grades 9-12 Jim Burke, 2013-08-23. I love what Jim Burke has done to make the Standards less threatening and more useful for teachers. In particular, the indicators for what students and teachers should be doing given the Standard are extremely helpful, as are such a clear glossary and illuminating examples. All in all, The Common Core Companion is bound to be enormously useful and thus dog-eared. Grant Wiggins, President, Authentic Education, Hopewell, NJ. That version of the 9-12 standards you wish you had! If you're a high school teacher, no need to despair. Jim Burke has created a Common Core Companion for you too. Thi
