

Chapter 7 Energy

Conservation of Energy—continued

2. The woman supports a 100-N load with the friction-free pulley systems shown below. Fill in the spring-scale readings that show how much force she must exert.

3. A 600-N block is lifted by the friction-free pulley system shown.

a. How many strands of rope support the 600-N weight?

b. What is the tension in each strand?

100 N

c. What is the tension in the end held by the man?

100 N

d. If the man pulls his end down 60 cm, how many cm will the weight rise?

10 cm

e. If the man does 60 J of work, what will be the increase of PE of the 600-N weight?

the same, 60 J

4. Why don't balls bounce as high during the second bounce as they do in the first bounce?

some of the ball's energy is transferred into sound and heat, therefore PE decreases

Can you see how the conservation of energy applies to all changes in nature?

Metacognitive Approaches to Developing Oracy Roy Evans, Deborah Jones, 2013-09-13 The acquisition of speech and language represent significant achievements for all children These aspects of child development have received substantial attention in the research literature and a considerable body of theoretical knowledge exists to chart progress from infancy to maturity Cross cultural studies have identified the common purposes served by the acquisition of oral language by children and the essential similarity in the sequence through which speech develops irrespective of geography and culture What is less clear is precisely how children learn to say what they mean and how teachers and parents can support and enhance the development of meaningful speech in their children Until now children s speech has been underused as a means of promoting learning in the formal school setting New requirements within the National Curriculum are trying to address this gap but there remains a lack of clarity as to what this means for practice and how it relates to the broad base of curricular objectives This book brings together a body of work from different countries it offers an improved understanding of how strategies for developing speaking and listening may impact metacognitive awareness and raise standards of literacy and dialogic thinking for all children This book was previously published as a special issue of Early Child Development and Care Current Catalog National Library of Medicine (U.S.), 1966 Includes subject section name section and 1968 1970 technical reports
